CITY IWA LIKELY TO DEFY COURT'S BAN ON PICKETING

Mother Fined $50 —Stole for Baby

CALGARY (CP)—A young Edmonton mother was fined $50 and costs Tuesday after she pleaded guilty to stealing two bottles of vitamin pills for her baby.

Court was told Beatrice Brayshaw, 20, was seen in two drug stores stealing vitamin pills worth a total of $6. Similar charges against her husband, Glen H. Brayshaw, were withdrawn at the request of the Crown.

Wenner-Gren Plan:

Rails to Yukon Start in 1960

VANCOUVER (CP) — Officials of the Wenner-Gren B.C. Development Co. said last night the company's proposed northern railway will probably run northwestward from Prince George to the Yukon border.

AVERELL HARRIMAN

Decision on a final route won't be made for several months yet, but aerial surveys are being made along this general northwesterly route, which would add 500 miles of steel to B.C.'s railway system.

Company executives Bernard Gore, Einar Gunderson and Birger Strid told reporters that a final decision will probably be made Oct. 30 and construction will start in early summer of 1960.

Aerial surveys of the general route will be completed in several weeks and this will enable engineers to recommend a precise route and to decide whether it will be a monorail or conventional railroad.

PART OF U.S. PLAN

It is considered likely that such a northwesterly route will be part of a general plan for a United States railroad to Alaska.

A northerly route from Fort St. John had been one of the plans under study by the engineers, but this has been ruled out.

It's also considered possible the railway may run beyond the Yukon boundary.

Consulting engineer Col. Sidney Binham is overseeing the choice of a route. He is a specialist on military transport and was an advisor to the U.S. government and armed forces.

MILLS, PLANTS

A monorail was considered by the company in an overall development plan of the north which would include mills and plants. But it was reported here that because of U.S. interest in the line as a route to Alaska, the probability of a monorail has almost been ruled out.

Want War? 'You Can Have It'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev bluntly told former New York Governor Averell Harriman that if the West wants war over Berlin, "You can have it."

Writing in Life Magazine, Harriman said Khrushchev added, "But remember, it will be your war. Our rockets will fly automatically."

Herter to Consult Canada on Geneva

WASHINGTON (CP)—Canada may play a part in the formation of the Western position in the new session of Geneva talks opening Monday, state department officials said Tuesday.

State Secretary Christian Herter will fly to Ottawa Saturday for a round of discussions with Prime Minister Diefenbaker and External Affairs Minister Green before going on to Geneva Saturday night.

This will be Herter's first official visit to Ottawa since he succeeded the late John Foster Dulles last April. While there has been no formal declaration by the American government as to what he will discuss, American diplomats made clear that an exchange of views on the Geneva situation undoubtedly will be the first item of business.

Herter's aides said he is proceeding overseas with no great feeling of optimism as to what the resumed East-West power talks will produce.

The Canadian government is known to feel strongly on a need for exhausting every possible basis of equitable East-West agreement before Western negotiations with Russia are broken off. Canadian officials may press this view in talks with Herter and his aides.

American diplomats said Herter will be prepared to give Canada's views earnest attention.

Lantzville Cut-Off

Cyclist Killed In Crash, Plunge

NANAIMO—A motorcycle driver was fatally injured and his passenger seriously hurt when a motorcycle collided with a car, crashed through a guard rail and then plunged into a ditch on the Island Highway yesterday afternoon.

Richard Stanley Kerr, 21, of Cowichan Station, named by RCMP as operator of the motorcycle, died in Nanaimo General Hospital about seven hours after he was rushed there by Island Ambulance from the accident scene.

In serious condition in the same hospital last night was Marvin Stacey, 21, of Vancouver. He was riding behind Kerr on the motorbike when it collided with a car driven by Sidney Haigh, Edmonton.

Police said the accident occurred as the southbound motorcycle tried to pass the car, also southbound, just as the latter was making a left-hand turn from the highway onto the Lantzville cut-off.

The driver of the car was unhurt.

Polio Epidemic Hits U.S. Midwest City

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) —An outbreak of polio cases in Des Moines reached epidemic proportions yesterday, with 67 cases reported since the first of the year.

Dr. James F. Speers, the city-county health director, said of the year's total, all but three occurred within the last eight-and-a-half weeks.

Thirty of the 67 persons who have contracted polio had at least one polio shot. One of the victims had five shots of the Salk vaccine.

Three persons have died in the outbreak in the last two months.

High Schools

Canadian Standard Lowest

TORONTO (UPI)—The man whose survey of Canadian and Russian scientific educational standards in high schools put Canada in a bad light, reported yesterday that the Canadian standard is the lowest in the Commonwealth.

Anthony Frisch, Italian-born author, teacher and civil servant who served in the RCAF in the last war, discovered by writing to educational authorities in Commonwealth countries that Canadian high schools, as a whole, put the least emphasis on the sciences.

He compared the high school curriculi in mathematics, physics, chemistry and biology—the same comparison which showed Russian high schools teaching 64 units in sciences and maths, higher than any province of any Commonwealth country.

He received no reply from the United Kingdom or Ceylon.

The initial report, comparing the Russian and Canadian standards, was tabled in the House of Commons Jan. 20. That survey was originally sponsored by the federal government, which, he said, later dropped its support because of political pressure from Quebec.

He did the Commonwealth survey on his own.

The national average for Canada was 39 units, ranging from Ontario's top of 54, down to Quebec with 28 and Newfoundland with 27. Pakistan and South Africa each teach 40 units, India 48, New Zealand 56, and Australia has the best standard with an average of 57.

Tomb of Midas May Yield Soon

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Dr. Rodney S. Young of the University of Pennsylvania Museum says he may soon break open the tomb of the fabulous King Midas, the foolish monarch with the golden touch.

Young and his staff are supervising excavations by a bulldozer and a crew of 150 peasants at Gordion, capital of ancient Phrygia, where Midas had his palace.

Legend says that Midas wished that everything he touched would turn to gold, but when his food turned to gold he begged off.

Young has been excavating at the site since 1950. He uncovered the largest tomb in 1957, but doubts it was that of Midas, who committed suicide after his city was looted about 685 BC.

Young does not believe so elaborate a burial would have been arranged in a time of catastrophe.

A bulldozer is now ripping off the top of the second-largest mound. Young hopes the tomb will yield some sign that it is that of Midas.

Loading of Ships Most Improbable

There were strong indications that the IWA intends to defy a B.C. supreme court injunction issued last night restraining the union from interfering with loading of three ships at Ogden Point dock.

The order was issued by Mr. Justice Thomas Brown at Vancouver. It remains in effect until Friday, under the four-day provision of the B.C. labor laws. Then the companies involved can apply for renewal and the union will have an opportunity to oppose it.

Local IWA officials declined to make any statement on the injunction, but they indicated that there had been no change in the union's plans.

Earlier in the day, Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane declined to hear an application from the B.C. Shipping Federation for an injunction to restrain IWA members from forming the picket line here.

And officials of the longshoremen's union indicated they would continue to honor IWA picket lines as long as they remain on duty at the docks.

The application was made after more than 130 longshoremen refused to load three ships berthed at Ogden Point with cargoes of lumber.

DOZEN OR MORE

A dozen or more men, wearing lapel buttons reading "I Am An IWA Member," appeared at the dock gates and the longshoremen indicated they regarded the IWA men as a picket line, which they refused to cross. But an IWA official said it was not a picket line.

"We're merely telling anybody who wants to know that these are IWA men," the official said.

However, a spokesman for the shipping federation, representing the owners of three ships whose berthing is costing $1,500 a day, said "we're not fooled—those IWA men are pickets all right, even though they're apparently carrying no placards."

REFLECTION OF NEED

John M. Billings, president of Forest Industrial Relations, which represents 127 operators, said last night that present labor troubles in B.C. are a reflection of the need to avoid "pricing ourselves out of business."

He said B.C. is priced out of the United Kingdom market for common lumber and there is now a dependence on U.S. demand. "It is necessary that we recognize what this means in insecurity and seasonal fluctuations in demand in an industry that once had the stability of a good range of overseas outlets."

BY 50 PER CENT

Economists report the strike will cut Canadian lumber exports to the U.S. by 50 per cent. Shipments from coast logging operations to the U.S. totalled 80,000,000 board feet a month in the first five months of this year.

Jack Moore, IWA first vice-president, said 14 small operators employing about 200 men have signed agreements giving workers a 20 per cent increase and have resumed operations.

Joe Morris, IWA district president, and Mr. Billings indicated new negotiations aren't contemplated.

NO VIOLENCE

No violence was expected during the strike as companies have never attempted to bring in strike-breakers. However, the union has a 50-man flying squad in readiness in the event of trouble.

In some cases companies went out of their way to make picketers comfortable. One firm sent a construction crew out to build a shack for picketers. Others offered strikers use of restaurants or luncheon facilities.

Pacific Western Airlines nearly doubled its 18 regular flights to bring out loggers from Vancouver Island points. Canadian Pacific Airlines put extra planes on its flights to northern B.C. to look after the heavy influx of loggers flying from camps to Vancouver.

* * *

No Relief On Strike For Weeks

Relief payments for needy striking IWA men will only be paid in the third week of the strike, according to union officials.

Payments will be $14 a week for married men with an additional $3 a week for each child and $8 weekly for single men.

Meanwhile, it was announced, that all salaried officers of the union went off the payroll as of 11 a.m. July 6.

MAJ.-GEN. VANIER

Ex-Soldier Successor To Massey?

TORONTO (CP) — The Globe and Mail says it has learned reliably that the Queen "has agreed" to the appointment of Maj.-Gen. George P. Vanier, 71-year-old Montreal-born soldier and diplomat, to succeed Governor-General Massey.

Mr. Massey, 72, Canada's first native-born governor-general who has twice had his term extended, is due to retire this fall.

The paper says announcement of Gen. Vanier's appointment is expected soon, possibly before the Queen ends her Canadian tour Aug. 1.

Bathtub Vodka Un-Soviet

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia yesterday decreed fines and stiff jail sentences for moonshiners and bootleggers in an apparent follow-up to Nikita Khrushchev's campaign against demon vodka.

Anyone caught making bathtub vodka or any other alcoholic beverage would be liable to a fine, social censure and a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

FOR some years now I have been enslaved to a monster called Photo-Night.

Photo-Night is a clever gimmick of the motion picture business designed to lure you into a theatre. Essentially it is a giveaway.

The theatre keeps a book which contains thousands of names. Any patron can add his name to the list, and it stays on there forever after.

Each Monday night the theatre goes through an elaborate ritual to choose at random from the list. The choosing is done in such a way that there is no favoritism. Then the names are called out, and if the people are in the theatre, they are eligible for large prizes.

* * *

To make the deal legal, the theatre buys the patron's picture from him for $500, or whatever the amount of the prize is. If the people called are not in the theatre, the management adds another $25 to the prize and goes through the routine again the following week.

Usually the person called is not there. The prizes keep mounting week after week, until they are given away.

Photo-Night was formerly held in the old Atlas Theatre. In pre-television days there were long line-ups, and an usher came out into the street to call the names of the winners. Then the Atlas was closed, and Photo-Night continued in the Dominion, another theatre owned by the same firm.

Audiences dwindled. Finally, the Dominion closed its doors—at least for the summer. On its last night, the house was about one-third full. No announcement was ever made about Photo-Night. Some people thought it would move to the Capitol, but it didn't. The management just quietly dropped it.

I left two telephone messages for manager Martin Cave, but he never returned my calls.

* * *

Are the audiences entitled to an accounting for all that money that is still in the jackpot, undistributed? I suppose not. The management never promised to give it away. But some Photo-Night addicts—those who remain—feel that the theatre owes them something in return for all the time they squandered watching Grade C movies.

Lately the management began showing good movies, and these seemed to draw good audiences for a while. But then the people stopped coming even to good movies, in any numbers.

* * *

I'm thankful, in a way, that I have been given the chance to kick the Photo-Night habit. It has eaten up a lot of time that I might have used for earning money. But I think the management should have ended Photo-Night with a bang, instead of with a whimper.

CBC Executive Tells MPs:

'Any Sponsor a Relief'

OTTAWA (CP)—CBC officials said yesterday they don't consider it a loss when sponsor payments fall short of covering the costs of television network programs.

"The CBC sees it the opposite way, J. P. Gilmore, controller of operators, told the Commons broadcasting committee. The sponsor was paying at least part "instead of the CBC paying the whole thing."

Charles Jennings, controller of broadcasting, said the publicly-owned corporation is required by law to provide a national broadcasting service.

* * *

Profit? No, They Help Pay Losses

* * *

Jean Noel Trembley (PC, Roberval) referred to the hour-long Music Hall variety show on the French TV network Sunday nights. The program March 22 cost $16,757 and the CBC received $6,084 from the sponsor, Labatt Brewery.

"How did Labatt Brewery ask for $12,683 of the taxpayers' money?" he asked.

Mr. Gilmore said it is a question of supply and demand in getting the best return from a sponsor. The CBC would put on the program even without a sponsor because it was "a vital part of our French network television service."

"In other words," asked J. W. Pickersgill (L, Bonavista-Twillingate), "anything you get from the sponsor is relief for the taxpayer?"

"Yes," Mr. Gilmore said.

French Scandal

Hired Killer Returns Unearned Blood Money

PARIS (UPI)—An ex-paratrooper who accused a society doctor of hiring him to kill the prospective heir to a fortune came to Paris Tuesday "to return the last of the 13,000,000 francs I was paid."

In the office of Investigating Magistrate Jacques Batigne one more piece was fitted into the jigsaw puzzle of the notorious "Lacaze Affair," the alleged murder that never took place.

"I have turned over the remaining 9,500,000 francs," hawk-faced Maj. Camille Rayon, 46, said coming out. "That's the lot."

"IN THE WAY"

Rayon handed 3,500,000 francs to the authorities in January, 1958. That was when he went to the police and said he was given 13,000,000 francs —$26,338 at that time—to "rub out" a young man who was "in the way."

The intended victim, according to Rayon, was Jean-Pierre Guillaume, 24, who stands to inherit one of France's largest fortunes, an estimated $500,000,000.

Rayon accused society doctor Maurice Lacour of "fingering" Guillaume to him and paying over the money—part in advance and the remainder after Rayon pretended the killing was carried out.

Dr. Lacour was charged with attempted murder March 13.

The fourth character in the cast that has intrigued all France, is rich, handsome Mrs. Domenica Walter, 53.

Dr. Lacour is her long-time friend. And young Guillaume is her adopted but estranged son.

Mrs. Walter sprang to Dr. Lacour's defence.

"He is the victim of a machination," she said.

But Rayon stuck to his story. The money he brought in today, he said, was evidence that the story was true.

Surprise Gas Attack Saves Prison Hostages

MONROE, Wash. (AP)—Thirty-eight hostages, held for 13½ hours by four "kill crazy" young convicts, were freed without harm at the state reformatory Tuesday in a surprise tear gas attack.

Officers carried out the rescue at 4.03 a.m., two hours before the third and latest deadline set by the revolting prisoners. Reformatory officials said it went like clockwork.

VIOLENCE

The rebels, who had armed themselves with butcher knives and long forks in the kitchen Monday afternoon, threatened violence only to the three guards held hostage.

The prisoners said they wanted a car to take them across the British Columbia border.

One of the guards, Hugh Dewalt, said after the rescue that the desperadoes had told the guards to start praying because they would be thrown out of the window dead if their demands for freedom were not met.

WOMEN, CHILDREN

Twenty-five visitors, many of them women and children, and 11 other prisoners who had been visiting relatives were seized along with the three guards.

One woman was released from the barricaded visitors' room during the night when she became ill. The others were held until the uprising ended. All outsiders and the 11 hostage inmates were treated fairly well.

The four rebels were quickly subdued as the tear gas sent the occupants stumbling, weeping and choking, from the room.

Officers said they were "roughed up a bit."

Fish Escape Probe

OTTAWA (CP) — Justice Minister Fulton introduced in the Commons Tuesday legislation suspending for two years any application of anti-combines legislation to fishing arrangements in British Columbia.

The measure is intended to ensure that a current anti-combines investigation of the B.C. fishing industry does not interfere with this year's salmon catch.

Mr. Fulton said the government has decided not to proceed this session with all the amendments to the anti-combines legislation it originally proposed.

It will go ahead with a proposal to make illegal misleading advertising and to give manufacturers the right to refuse to sell their products to retailers who persistently use these products as loss-leaders —items sold below cost to attract customers.

The Commons passed a Criminal Code amendment that Justice Minister Fulton said is intended to eliminate any remnant of imprisonment for debt—a provision making possible instalment payment of fines for serious offences.

'Second Try' School Open At Oak Bay

Summer school for 457 high school students who failed one or two key subjects in recent exams began this week at Oak Bay Junior High School. Courses end July 31.

Greater Victoria school board inaugurated the summer school program four years ago to help students salvage a year in their academic careers. Results last year showed that 50 per cent who continued the subjects showed marked improvement.

This year's enrolment is slightly down from 1958. It includes 301 students repeating Grade 9 English, social studies, mathematics or science; 24 students from private schools; and 132 students taking English courses at Grade 10 and 11 levels.

Fee for each academic course is $10, putting the summer school on a self-supporting basis.

Victoria Firemen Pallbearers At Dyer Funeral

Funeral services for Henry Dyer, 68, a member of the Victoria fire department for more than 30 years, were held recently in Ladysmith.

Mr. Dyer, who was born in Wellington, near Nanaimo, in 1891, came to Victoria in 1918. He joined the Victoria fire unit the same year, and retired to Ladysmith in 1946 with the rank of lieutenant.

Members of the present Victoria fire department were pallbearers.

An ardent fisherman and hunter, Mr. Dyer was a charter and life member of the Clover Point Anglers' Association.

He is survived by his wife Josephine in Ladysmith; a son, Ernest of Victoria; two grandsons, David and Stephen of Victoria; a sister, Mrs. Joe Rozzano of Ladysmith, and many nieces and nephews.

GUELPH, Ont. (CP) — The Queen was in danger during her brief stop here Thursday when she stood on a platform at the entrance to city hall. As a large sign reading "God save the Queen" was being taken down, workmen found large cement posts at either end of a balcony under which the Queen had stood were loose.

VANCOUVER (CP)—William Kitt, 78, would like to meet Prince Philip during the Royal visit here July 15.

Mr. Kitt was a baby-sitter to Prince Philip's mother and Lord Louis Mountbatten, his uncle, former first lord of the British admiralty.

That was in 1901 aboard the battleship Implacable when Mr. Kitt, then 19, was a member of the galley crew.

Lawyer-Financier

World Police Seek Sharpie

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police throughout the world were asked yesterday to track down a suave high-living lawyer-financier who has eluded investigators on three continents since his arrest was ordered 18 months ago on charges of defrauding investors of $14,000,000.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said Lowell M. Birrell, 52, had been traced to Cuba, Canada, Guatemala, Paris and Venezuela since he skipped town in November, 1957, when a warrant was issued for his arrest here.

Birrell was spotted a few times in Montreal but then vanished.

Hogan said Birrell had left his third wife and three children in Switzerland and apparently has been on the move since.

Birrell has been indicted on 69 counts of grand larceny involving a total alleged theft of $14,000,000, Hogan disclosed.

Progress at Goldstream

GOLDSTREAM Park, now under the care of the provincial recreation department, is shaping up well. Indications are that when it is completed it will be one of the finest playgrounds in a natural setting to be found on Vancouver Island, the traditional home of many of them. The main outline of the park is now discernible with improved approaches from the Island Highway, walks along the watercourse of the Goldstream River, picnic tables and safeguarded open-air fireplaces. All this, in the shade of the Malahat hills and at the head of Saanich Inlet, enhances a setting which has always been beautiful, but now will be accessible as well.

Provincial parks officials have done well in siting the public camping area to the west and somewhat apart from the main expanse of the recreation grounds. Provision for tenting and open air living there is being rounded into shape, secluded from the recreation area and nicely shielded between campsite and campsite. This should prove a considerable public attraction when Goldstream is in full use, for no more popular form of outing could be found to accommodate family parties and those who like outdoor life on their vacations.

Not the least of the permanent attractions at Goldstream will be the reservation in perpetuity of a considerable stand of heavy timber, nurtured in a well-watered area and saved from logging by use of the property through the years as part of Victoria's watershed. In point of fact, the ground on which Goldstream Park is being laid out was originally a gift to the city to render complete the surrounding property it had bought as part of the Goldstream watershed. Tall Douglas firs, lichen-covered rocks at the foot of the Malahat range and the purling noise of the river will make the setting memorable for residents and visitors alike.

What the public owes in return for this forward provision, against the day when this community will need all of its open spaces, is the same degree of responsibility and tidiness that it would use in its homes. Goldstream Park in a short while will be a jewel among Island recreation grounds. It will be up to the users to keep it that way.

A 'Day of Days'

WHAT was described by its mayor as a "day of days" took place in Vancouver on Sunday last when the mainland city's new civic auditorium was officially opened. Apparently this new structure is something evoking much civic pride, and reports told of the "oohs" and "aahs" of admiration that came from the lips of Vancouverites as they strolled through the building.

The main theatre, in which for initial ceremonies both choir and symphony orchestra were heard in performance, seats some 2,800 people, and there are attractive lobbies, restaurant, galleries and fountain and other pleasing amenities. It contains also the largest stage in Canada and patently will become a focal point of many types of gathering. The uses to which a civic auditorium can be put are many and varied.

This is only the first of a three-unit plan the civic authorities of Vancouver have in mind. Tenders are about to be called for a smaller 700-seat theatre adjacent to the auditorium, and an arena to seat several thousands is the next phase to round out the combined project. The idea is to provide as far as possible for the city's cultural, entertainment and sports taste.

There will be some envy in Victoria among those who recognize the need for a civic auditorium here over the go-ahead spirit that has sparked the mainland city Taking the example to heart there should also be cause for a renewal of enthusiasm, for without the zeal that brooks no obstacles Victoria is unlikely ever to follow suit.

Victoria cannot match Vancouver in wealth or resources. The mainland city has a population five times greater. If it wills it can equal it in spirit, however, and this city does not need so elaborate or so ample an auditorium. Its requirements are less although the functions would be similar, but what a building of this nature can do for Vancouver it can do equally well for Victoria. Vancouver is to be congratulated on its vision and enthusiasm; with the hope that its success may inspire Victorians to like endeavor.

Movement Comes First

CITY Council has before it a recommendation from the engineer that during the late afternoon rush hour parking be forbidden on portions of certain additional streets downtown. This is pretty sure to provoke protests from those who see restriction of parking as interference with business, and from others who maintain that what Victoria needs is more curbside parking spaces rather than fewer. Both may be right or partly right in theory, but there is a more important factor to be taken into account.

What has to be remembered is that the streets are provided for the movement of vehicles and not as places for drivers to leave them at a standstill for an hour or more at a time. Almost all the streets in Victoria were laid out before the automobile came on the scene, and many of them are too narrow to accommodate moving and stationary vehicles at the same time. If parking is permitted on both sides movement in the middle is impeded.

That is what is happening daily in most of the downtown area in the late afternoon. Because of the presence of a line of parked cars on either side the usable width of a street is reduced by about 20 feet. Movement is further impeded — sometimes brought to a total standstill—whenever cars attempt to get into or out of curbside spaces.

To a merchant whose business is located on such a street it may appear as a hardship to have parking forbidden, but that hardship may be more imaginary than real. Any street or part of town noted for bad traffic tie-ups becomes a place which prospective customers tend to avoid. Already there are sections of downtown Victoria which residents who know what to expect prefer not to enter in the late afternoon. The effect of this bad reputation is to drive business away to other areas where traffic is able to move more freely.

Interpreting the News

Iraqi Economy Weakens

By STAN CARTER
Associated Press Correspondent

ROME (AP)—Iraq is in serious economic difficulty. A private economist estimates national production has dropped 40 per cent since last July's revolution. Wages have increased 30 per cent.

Iraqi officials deny the economist's figures, but these agree with the observation of foreigners in the country and with the few statistics that are available.

It is known that consumption of petroleum products—a good indicator of the state of the mechanized segment of the economy—is currently 25,000 barrels a day compared to 30,000 last summer. Under normal conditions of economic growth petroleum consumption could have been expected to increase this year to 35,000 barrels daily.

Iraqis are beginning to ask why the cost of living is going up.

* * *

The country's few industries have been plagued by strikes and other disturbances.

The union is dominated by the Communists, whom the worker holds in high regard.

Iraq has basically an agrarian economy, with an addition of oil revenues. There are fewer than 50,000 industrial workers, compared to 2,000,000 agricultural workers.

Agricultural land is being confiscated from the big land owners to be redistributed to the agricultural workers under the agrarian reform law passed last fall. Most agricultural workers seem to think the land will be a gift from the government, although the law provides for them to pay for it over a 20-year period.

* * *

Even before the July, 1958 revolution that destroyed Iraq's pro-Western monarchy, Iraq had a sort of modified state socialism, with most of the industry owned by the government—and most of it losing money.

With a 550,000,000-ruble loan received from Russia, the Iraqis hope to industrialize the country further. At the official rate, the loan equals about $137,500,000.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

THE voice on the air said that the next number, a Strauss waltz, would be a flashback to a more gracious era. These looks back through rosy spectacles can be mighty deceiving, but nevertheless, they implied the element of association.

As, doubtless, it invoked in fact.

Without effort many listeners would conjure a mental picture of elegant ladies, courtly gentlemen, and an urbanity pushed into the background by the elevation of shirt-sleeved democracy.

The democratic credo of the moment—"I'm as good as you or anyone else"—has roughened things up a bit, you know. There is not so much couth as once there was.

We haven't all been to Austria, of course, but most of us have seen movies of that country before the deluge and read in the travel folders about the Viennese woods and a once-gay capital filled with long petticoats and a leisurely air.

And the mind leaps instantly to connect the present with the past.

* * *

It always does that. The extreme modernists—who think the world was born with them alone—would divorce themselves from what has gone on before. They imagine themselves the creatures of new thought. But even the genius who breaks fresh ground does so only because of someone ahead of him.

Time, as someone remarked the other day, is the most mysterious of all things, except to people like Alley Oop. We harness it to our ends but it is all of a piece. Everyone belongs to it, past and present.

That is why a time, be it a Strauss waltz or a Tin Pan Alley hit, strikes a responsive chord. It may be tied to some memory for ever. Even the music critic bent only on analysing the technique of the orchestra is liable to have his interest diverted by association of ideas.

It needn't be a tune, of course; it can be a billboard or an odor. A whiff of perfume from a passerby—a lady of course—might remind you of a favorite gum of your childhood days. If it were from a man it might recall the bizarre scents of a circus, merely by its queerness. A billboard may have a phrase that summons memory of a blackboard, and chalk and a disliked dominie.

* * *

All through life the past will haunt a person. Association is the most powerful of all mental stimulants.

Instance the story-teller, for example. Nothing is more familiar than the "that reminds me" which ushers in the tale so often mistold, for real story-tellers are few and far between. And familiar also is the person who must cap your experience with one similar to him, and, quite patently, much more important.

Women weep at weddings, not because they are sorry for the bride. It is too soon to decide that yet. They weep because their own wedding day comes back to mind and the tears are pleasantly nostaligic. Some of the most enjoyable feminine occasions are with a handkerchief dampened by happy memory.

A song is particularly potent as a reminder of yesteryear, and it may recall any one of a thousand memories.

This is what gives richness to life, which would be barren indeed if today were not linked to yesterday.

If the day the Queen comes to Victoria you trip over your left foot as you rush for a place of vantage, that's what any future royal visit will bring back to the forefront of your mind.

It was always thus and thus it always will be.

Reports From Ottawa

JOHN DIEFENBAKER made quite a commotion around the country a year or so ago, crying with forensic fervor: "If they had nothing to hide, why hide it?"

"They" was the Liberal government, and "it" was a confidential report to cabinet on the economy.

I am reminded of all this by the Tories' eagerness to ring down the curtain on the matter of who threatened to make CBC heads roll.

When Frank Peers, Hugh Gillis and Bernard Trotter quit their CBC jobs in protest against "clandestine political influence," no one on the Commons broadcasting committee shouted louder for a probe than the Conservative members.

Their enthusiasm died quickly when they heard the CBC's controller of broadcasting, Charles Jennings, and the director of the Ontario and English networks, H. G. Walker, quote acting CBC president E. G. Bushnell as saying that "heads will roll" unless a political commentary was removed from the air forthwith.

The heads: Bushnell's, CBC President J. Alphonse Ouimet's—and, shockingly, Revenue Minister Nowlan's.

Bushnell's explanation was that he meant that if the CBC didn't pull up its socks generally, somebody's head would certainly roll.

If one believes this—and mind you, none of these witnesses was testifying under oath—one must necessarily conclude that Bushnell deliberately misled his subordinates, or allowed them to labor under a gross misconception of what he meant. He knew that to them his words meant the CBC was faced with a grave conflict with the government and that if the CBC didn't knuckle under, the top brass would be fired.

Why would Bushnell mislead his subordinates? The testimony did not offer any logical reason, nor can I think of any. If he had hoped to coerce them into accepting his cancellation of the program without protest—well, their reaction was the exact opposite, as he must have known it would be.

I have heard every word of the witnesses' testimony. I have studied their attitudes, made allowances for possible ulterior motives, and given due weight to their professional and personal reputations. I cannot believe that Jennings, Walker, Peers, Gillis and Trotter erred in their assessment of what Bushnell said and meant.

* * *

The only person, of course, who has the power to fire Nowlan, Ouimet and Bushnell is Diefenbaker. This has led to speculation that Diefenbaker had one of his trusted troubleshooters tell the CBC to kill Preview Commentary, or else.

Two men are known to specialize in playing the PM's Mr. Fixit. One is Allister Grosart, Conservative Party national director. The other is the PM's old chum, Senator William Brunt.

The way Conservative committee members tried to break down Peers' testimony; the way committee chairman G. E. Halpenny, a Tory, shielded Bushnell from pointed questions by Liberal J. W. Pickersgill, and the way Halpenny and his colleagues moved to drop the inquiry supports a current rumor.

That rumor is that Diefenbaker ordered the Tories on the committee to quash the investigation that these same Tories had launched so eagerly a few days earlier.

I can still hear those exulting words of John Diefenbaker when he had the Grits on the run:

"If they had nothing to hide, why hide it?"

The Packsack

Three Good Blanks

By GREGORY CLARK

HAS anybody thought of just cutting off all negotiations with Russia? Negotiation has no meaning to communists except that it is the feint the prize fighter uses to put his adversary in position for a haymaker.

Many years ago, when I was young, I found myself in a helpless situation. My next door neighbors were hoodlums. Such had been my polite upbringing that I was completely incapable of dealing with them. They were abusive, hilarious, hearty, tough, trespassive. It turned out that one of their friends had decided that my house would be nice for him. So the program was to drive me out. But I didn't know it. I was genteel. Being a small, polite guy, I was no match for their toughness.

However, in a war in which I had recently participated, I had made sundry friends, some of them fairly rough characters. And one day I met an old sergeant of mine down town, and I happened to tell him of my plight. How does a polite and proper little man deal with great big rowdy neighbors?

That evening, my old sergeant and a couple of my former comrades of less comely visage called upon my neighbors. They told them that if they made any more trouble for the proper little gentleman next door, they would come and break the blank blank blank neck of my neighbors. Three blanks appear to be necessary in speaking certain tongues.

I have often recalled, with guilty conscience, this incident in my life. Should I have condoned this lawless act on the part of my old comrades?

But do you know, it was my neighbors who moved, in about six months?

What our genteel statesmen ought to learn, maybe, is about three good blanks in Russian.

Are MPs Not Citizens?

From the Ottawa Journal

THE Journal has consistently held that the CBC, in its day-to-day operation, and especially in its programming, should be free from interference by the government and Parliament.

But The Journal wonders whether this should mean that a private member of Parliament must be denied the right to express his personal opinion on the CBC's programs—to exercise a right which belongs to all the rest of us and which all the rest of us use freely?

Many of us write about CBC programs, criticize them, call up the CBC to say that we don't like them; it happens every day.

Is it to be argued that a man, just because he happens to be a member of Parliament, must not have this same right—must not be permitted to exercise a mere commonplace of citizenship?

It seems to us sometimes that there is a lot of sloppy thinking about the place and position of the CBC—about the relations of the public to it, including MPs.

Sudeten Again

Bombs to Brochures

By Cassandra, from London

I HAVE received a somewhat astonishing brochure. It is a costly publication in three colours and was printed in Munich—of unhappy fame.

It is called (in somewhat square-wheel English): "The German Expellees from Czechoslovakia."

It is the old Sudeten - German question raised again. Last time it was Adolf Hitler roaring and blackmailing Europe into the Second World War with his complaints about the holy brotherhood of Germans marooned outside the Reich.

Now the Germans are at the Sudeten Problem again. Not by the jack-boot and storm-trooper, but by luxury brochure. It says among many other things:

"More than 16 million Germans were expelled from ancestral homelands in Central and Eastern Europe after World War Two.

"Of those expelled almost three and a half millions were Sudeten Germans.

"The expulsion of the Germans from the land brought devastation and decay. A desert has sprung up in the heart of Europe.

From Bombs to Brochures.

But who invaded Poland? Who invaded Belgium? Who invaded Holland? Who invaded France? Who invaded Denmark? Who invaded Norway? Who invaded Russia? Who invaded Yugoslavia? Who invaded Greece? Who invaded North Africa?

The decline of Dr. Adenauer as a world figure is like a Very light disappearing into the waves.

A year ago Konrad Adenauer was the Iron Statesman of the West. Strong, wise, skilful, flexible and just.

Today he is the old man of the sea running out of salt water in which to swim. He accuses his allies. He traduces his friends. He tells Mr. Macmillan that "the British must be convinced that they must realize that everybody cannot push through his own view."

Shades of the Herrenvolk!

One of the great things when you are playing a historic part on the world stage is to know how to leave it with dignity. Shakespeare had a line for it in Macbeth about the Thane of Cawdor:

"Nothing in his life became him like the leaving it."

* * *

I have a terrible story for those calm, impassive men who run the Paradise of Perfect Engineering—Rolls-Royce.

They have never apologised for their products or given more than a wan smile of satisfaction at knowing that they are the best in the world. Without their aero-engines we certainly could not have won World War Two.

They are the big Take-It-Or-Leave-It-Boys who are sure in the knowledge that the finest is nearly always better than good enough.

But on Long Island, near New York City, I hear there is a Rolls-Royce enthusiast who has just bought one of the latest Silver Wraiths. This iconoclast tried it out and then said: "Not enough get-up-and-let's-go!"

The Yankee heretic then took off the cylinder head, re-ground it, made other sacrilegious modifications, including a blasphemous alteration to the carburetor system, and is now beating the living daylights out of the Cadillacs and all other comers on the turnpikes, thruways and expressways where American automobile prowess is fought out.

Your Situation Regrettable, Girl, 18, Told

Three concurrent six-month sentences were given an 18-year-old girl in Saanich police court yesterday, on two charges of theft from the mail and one of uttering a forged document.

Maureen Griffiths, 1319½ Broad, had pleaded guilty to all charges.

Court had been told accused took a letter containing a $6 family allowance cheque for Mrs. Margaret A. Jackson, 3287 Alder, from the mail, forged the signature and cashed it at a store.

Third charge involved theft of two money orders for $10 each from an envelope addressed to Johana Gordon, also of 3287 Alder. On these, too, the signature was forged, and they were cashed in a Douglas Street pharmacy.

"You are still only 18 years old," said Magistrate William Ostler. "It is most regrettable to see you in a situation like this. On the other hand, these offences were quite deliberate."

The magistrate noted two previous convictions against accused earlier this year, at up-Island points.

Russell Osland, 833 Admirals, was fined $50 in Saanich court when he admitted consuming liquor in a car at Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

Howard Peters, no fixed address, was committed for trial in higher court following preliminary hearing in city police court yesterday on charges of inducing a 20-year-old girl into prostitution, and living off the money she made.

Accused told the court he had nothing to say "at this time" at the conclusion of prosecution evidence.

A principal witness yesterday was Ann Kaspar, 20, named in the charge, who last week was sentenced to 20 days in jail on a vagrancy charge.

Lum Ho, 538 Fisgard, pleaded guilty through counsel Patrick Sinnott in city court yesterday to a charge of bootlegging. He was fined $300.

Ordered confiscated was a liquor stock belonging to accused, and listed by Sgt. John Perry as including nine bottles of gin, eight bottles of rum, seven bottles of rye, 26 bottles of wine and almost 20 dozen bottles of beer.

Leslie A. Noon, 2780 Eastdowne, pleaded not guilty before Magistrate A. I. Thomas in Colwood police court yesterday to a charge of kindling a campfire without a permit. He was found guilty and fined $25.

Kiss Not Amiss But Nagging Another Matter

LONDON (UPI)—Divorce court commissioner John Flowers told Mrs. Anna Williams she had no right to allege misconduct on the part of her husband just because he kissed another woman.

Granting Williams, instead of Mrs. Williams, a divorce, Judge Flowers also berated her for being a nag. "She nagged about everything," the judge said. "The food, having to cook, the cost of the food, the way he ate his food, the cost of the gas."

Tax Share Decision Delayed

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming Tuesday postponed at least until October a decision on whether the federal government will provide the provinces with a better tax-sharing deal next year.

He made that clear at a press conference following the close of a two-day conference with ministers of the 10 provinces, including five premiers.

A joint communique from the closed meeting said "a large majority of the provincial ministers expressed a strong desire" for a full-scale conference before the end of 1959 to discuss a new tax-sharing arrangement.

It is up to the federal government to decide whether or not to call such a conference. Mr. Fleming told reporters that unless Ottawa is prepared to increase tax-sharing payments to the provinces "there's not much use in calling a conference."

He said he made it clear to the provincial ministers that two factors will govern the decision: The effect of the current economic recovery on the government's revenues, and the extent of preparations which can be made.

The communique said the ministers agreed to meet again Oct. 15 and 16 when it would discuss "the possible need for a negotiating conference" on the final two years of the current five-year tax rental agreements. They extend to March 31, 1962.

Premier Bennett of British Columbia said the meeting showed "one of the best spirits of any conference I've had the pleasure of attending." But he said B.C.'s goal still is for a bigger tax share.

Choir Girls On Wagon During Tour

LUTON, England (UPI) — The 47 members of the Luton Girls' Choir, who leave in August for a three-month tour of Ausrtalia and New Zealand, have gone on the wagon for the whole trip. They fear that Australian hospitality might prove overwhelming.

Choir musical director Arthur E. Davies, a teetotaller himself, made the girls promise to keep their party-drinking to fruit juice — with an occasional glass of wine.

He sent a questionnaire to parents asking: Do you object to your daughter taking alcohol? All replied: No spirits.

"I shall not be a bit surprised if some of the girls do find Australian boy friends," said choir secretary Peggy Coggins. "We shall allow them as much freedom as possible — within reason."

Industrials Again Break Index High

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials were strong, breaking through to a record index level, but the rest of the stock market did little.

Industrials bounced ahead more than 3½ points, one of their best gains this year, and raised the index rating to 549.54, a record in the 25-year history of the present exchange.

Among industrials steels and foods were the pace-setters.

A late rally almost gave base metals a win on the session. Falconbridge jumped 1⅜ at 29 but Labrador was off ½ at 29½ and Steep Rock and International Nickel were down fractions.

Juniors were the big losers in western oils. Royalite was off 30 cents at $7.75, Triad gave up 20 cents at $4.25 and Central Del Rio 15 cents at $7.45.

Aluminium Favored

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices were mixed to slightly stronger.

Steels and base metals showed strength as Aluminium gained a point at 36 while ½-point gains were registered by Algoma at 41⅜ and Atlas at 27½. But Canada Iron was off ⅜ at 32 and Asbestos dropped ½ to 28¾.

Utilities and foods also improved. Calgary Power at 92½ was up 1½ and Dominion Stores jumped 2¾ to 75¾ while point gains were made by Quebec Natural Gas at 18 and Weston A at 42. Power Corp. improved ¾ at 64.

Papers showed a weaker tendency. Powell River was down 1¼ at 36¾ and B.C. Forest dipped ⅝ to 15¾. But Consolidated Paper at 42¾ was up ¾ and Abitibi gained ⅞ at 38⅞.

Building Products went down 1½ to 32½ and Canadian General Investments at 38 was down 3. Point losses were taken by Ford A at 180 and Texaco at 73. Canadian Breweries lost ⅞ at 38⅜.

International Petroleum dropped 2 to 32 while Labrador picked up a point at 29½ and Falconbridge improved ¾ at 28½ in strong producing mines.

Rails Join Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—Rails led an industrial advance that pushed the stock market to another record high.

Late buying carried the list upward. The market was mixed for most of the day as profits were taken on five straight days of advance. Only the rails stood out as gainers from start to finish.

Excellent earnings and vastly improved reports of carloadings have provided reasons for an upturn of rail stocks. New York Central leaped to the top of the most active list, gaining 1⅝ to 30¾ on 109,400 shares.

General Motors, up 3⅜ at 58¾, was the second most active stock on turnover of 94,600 shares. All motor stocks except Studebaker-Packard, which dropped a fraction, were on the upside after a weak start.

Coppers Depressed

VANCOUVER—Coppers continued their decline with Bethlehem at 1.25, Cowichan at 68 cents and Mid West Copper at 17 cents.

Other mines were steady with Sheep Creek at 1.33 and Pacific Nickel 57 cents.

Vantor was a little stronger among oils at 77 cents.

Pipe lines were a little stronger with Trans Canada at $26½ and Northern Ontario $14¾.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices were somewhat irregular in moderately active trade. There were no reports of export business in coarse grains or flax.

There was some activity in rye with buying by local interests and American houses. Offerings were light and prices advanced.

Flax prices showed hesitation but there were no reports of exports. Favorable crop reports contributed to flax offerings.

Superstitious Sailors Quit 'Albatross Ship'

LIVERPOOL, England (Reuters) — Sixty-two superstitious seamen on a sitdown strike aboard the "albatross ship" Calpean Star were told Tuesday night they could either be paid off and be given "bad discharges," or else complete the voyage to Oslo, Norway.

Afterward, the captain said 22 of his crew were refusing to sail and would be paid off. All the officers, except a few who were sick and would be allowed to leave, agreed to sail with him.

UNLUCKY TRIP

Uneasy since an albatross was taken aboard the Calpean Star with a cargo of birds and animals in South Georgia, the crew started their strike Monday on their arrival after an unlucky trip to the Antarctic and back.

The albatross, a great soaring seabird whose death is associated with the becalming of ships, died Monday night.

SAUSAGE ROLL

An autopsy showed the bird died from food poisoning from spices in a sausage roll someone had fed it.

Before the bird died, the ship's main generator broke down, the heating and hot water systems failed, and for three weeks the crew had to use candles for illumination.

Pupils Five to 15 Smoke in Classroom

LONDON (UPI)—The principal of a "free expression" school yesterday defended smoking in class by his pupils aged five to 15. He even keeps ash trays handy for them.

Principal Jimmy East, a Cambridge graduate who believes in letting children express themselves, said, "Some smoke 10 a day.

"We are producing sociable, self-reliant children untroubled by hidden fears. About a dozen of my 40 pupils like to smoke and I let them light up in the classroom."

When education officials complained about the smoking, East said he replied that it was better "than for the children to sneak" out to smoke.

Haunted by Hit-and-Run, Man Lost Family, Job

CHICAGO—Edmond O'Brien walked into traffic court and said that for five years he has grieved over a hit-run accident which killed a youngster and cost him his wife, children and job.

Now, he said, he wanted to give himself up.

Police charged O'Brien, 39, with reckless homicide, negligent driving, leaving the scene of a personal injury accident and failure to make an accident report.

In July, 1954, he said, he had finished work and stopped off for a drink or two, then began driving home. Next day he read in a newspaper that James Adamczyk, 13, had been killed by a hit-run car while riding a bicycle along the route O'Brien had taken. O'Brien found the hood and front bumper of his car newly dented.

O'Brien began to worry constantly, drank more and became irritable. Eventually, his wife and their two children left him.

Filling Station Lockout Brings Prices Back Up

TORONTO (CP) — A retail gasoline operators' lockout in protest over a price war got off to a half-hearted start Tuesday and prices at service stations that remained open began jumping back to normal.

Some said half the dealers shut down, but Kenneth Langdon, field manager for the Ontario Retail Gasoline and Service Association, said about 850 of metropolitan Toronto's 1,200 stations are closed.

A spokesman for one of the 10 major oil companies said a company check of 1,114 stations showed 427 closed.

Several of those remaining open raised their prices to the normal 43.9 cents a gallon. Prices before Tuesday had gone as low as 27.9.

"Say, hey"

You can stop Willie Mays some of the time but the colorful outfield star of the San Francisco Giants has that happy knack of coming up with the big hit or the big play which wins ball games. Cameraman caught him here as he won yesterday's all-star major league baseball game for National League with booming triple to deep centrefield in eighth inning. It scored Hank Aaron with run which broke 4-4 tie.—(AP Photofax.)

Mays' Booming Triple Decides All-Star Game

PITTSBURGH — Wondrous Willie Mays shook himself out of a slump with a tie-breaking triple in the eighth inning yesterday to give the National League a 5-4 victory over the American League in the annual all-star baseball game.

Mays sent a towering smash to deep right centre which scored Hank Aaron with the winning run, broke a two-year winning streak for the American League and made a winner out of teammate Johnny Antonelli although he faced only two men and threw but six pitches.

A shirtsleeve crowd of 34,763 turned out to watch a classic that started out as a pitching battle and ended in a combination slugfest and juggling act as Fred Haney and Casey Stengel used almost everyone they had on the bench in the hectic last two innings.

GOOD START

Eddie Mathews' first-inning homer off Early Wynn put the Nationals ahead and they stayed there through three perfect innings by Don Drysdale, who faced the minimum nine men and struck out four before giving way to Lew Burdette. Burdette goth the first two men, but the first American League hit was a home run by Al Kaline to tie the score.

Burdette gave up two more hits, then settled down. Meanwhile, big Ryne Duren took over from Wynn and fogged a fast ball past the Nats for three innings, striking out four. Then the power-hitters took over.

The Nationals jumped on Jim Bunning for two runs in the seventh on Ernie Banks' double and singles by Del Crandall and Bill Mazeroski.

FACE FALLS

But the Americans, who scored all but one of their runs after two men were out, came back in the eighth for three runs to grab a 4-3 lead. They did it the hard way, against unbeaten Elroy Face. He retired the first five men he faced, but had to head for the showers as Antonelli took over with three runs in and two men on base.

Antonelli got the Nationals out of it. He walked Roy Sievers, but got Sherm Lollar to hit into a forced play at third to end the inning. Then the Nationals rallied for two runs in the bottom of the inning to win it.

Victim was Whitey Ford of the Yankees, who was greeted by a single by pinch-hitter Ken Boyer. A sacrifice and a single by Hank Aaron tied the score, and Mays belted his triple high to right centre field.

At that, the American League club almost made another comeback. Nellie Fox singled off Don Elston, Harvey Kuenn then sent a screaming liner into the left field stands, but it was foul by a few feet, and he popped out to end the game.

Stengel said he had "no regrets," but criticized the hard-baked infield at Forbes Field "They played worse than we did, but they won, and that's what counts."

Second all-star game will be played Aug. 3 in Los Angeles.

Rocks Again on Streak; Can Extend It Tonight

Victoria Shamrocks, who have been streaking one way or the other this season—their current direction is up—get a chance tonight to grab second place all to themselves when they host Vancouver Carlings in an Inter-City Lacrosse League game at Memorial Arena.

	GP	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
New Westminsteh	18	11	7	0	228	183	22
VICTORIA	18	8	9	1	170	185	17
Vancouver	18	8	9	1	184	179	17
Nanaimo	18	7	9	2	171	208	16

Last night's score: VICTORIA 12 at Vancouver 8.
Next game: tonight, Vancouver at VICTORIA.

The Islanders pulled even with Carlings last night with a 12-8 victory at Vancouver which ran their latest streak (winning) to three games.

Shamrocks started the season by losing three in a row. Then they won five and tied one of the next six before tumbling into a six-game losing streak, which was unexpectedly ended last week with a double win over the Dominion champion New Westminster O'Keefes.

Rookie Jim McNeill, scoring his 23rd, 24th and 25th goals, and goalkeeper Geordie Johnston, stopping 15 of 19 shots in a fine display, were the Shamrock pacesetters last night but Whitey Severson stole the spotlight by becoming the first player to score 400 league goals.

The veteran popped in two last night, the 399th and 400th of his lengthy career, most of it spent in Victoria.

Taking full advantage of bad passing by the Carlings, who badly miss Bobby Marsh, the Shamrocks were never headed after Severson pulled them even at 1-1 in the first quarter.

McNeill, Stew Smith and Tom Collett boosted their margin to 4-1 late in the second quarter and after Fred Usselman had counted for Carlings on an odd-man play, scrappy Jackie Wilson went around Bob Lee twice within seconds to build a four-goal edge.

Carlings got to 6-4 early in the third quarter but their rally stopped there as an alert Bert Bertoia grabbed a loose ball after a face-off and broke away for the 7-4 goal.

Then Severson popped in No. 400 on passes from Smith and Al Gill as the Rocks again clicked on their improved odd-man play and Carlings never got closer than four goals from there, four times trailing by five.

NOT SERIOUS

Johnston injured his "good" knee slightly during second quarter play but came out to start the third quarter. However, he took himself out of the game after Pecknold had brought the score to 6-4, finding he could not move as quickly as he should.

He was replaced by Don Hamilton, who turned in a steady job. It was not known last night whether or not Johnston would be able to play tonight but his injury was reported as not serious.

Junior Rocks Trim Tugmen

Three goals late in the fourth quarter enabled Junior Shamrocks to edge Foul Bay Tugmen 7-4 Tuesday night in Senior "B" Lacrosse League play at Stevenson Park.

Leading the Shamrocks with two goals apiece were defenceman Tommy Wyatt and forward Lonnie Restall. Singletons came from Brian Gray, Russ West and Tobbie Wilson.

Foul Bay could manage only a goal apiece from Jack Reid, Gary Taylor, Art Pike and Joe Dobbie.

Dance Team to Entertain

Lacrosse fans will get some unusual extra entertainment at Memorial Arena tonight.

Arena-manager Joe Dukowski said last night that the dance team of Marjorie and Harry Mason, who specialize in rock and roll, will put on a show at half-time and again after the game until 11.

Joining them on the arena floor will be 500 city students who have been given tickets to attend the game.

AT THE 19th
With Harry Young

With so many people wondering, it is perhaps time that the real story of the celebrated Gyro hole-in-one should be told. I know many won't believe it, and I don't blame them:

In effect it was by far the longest hole ever to have been done in one stroke—something over 90 miles.

I was at my up-Island hideaway last weekend. The wind was blowing fairly strong, and conditions looked just ideal for my secret Lightning missile with its blue flash spinner warhead.

To my friend Harry Mearns I said, "This is just the time to try it out for accuracy."

We went down to the launching ramp, set a SE course for Victoria Central Junior High playground, and then used the magnetic micrometer adjustment to steer the blue flash warhead into the metallic Gyro cup.

After fixing up a jib and mainsail, Harry Mearns started the count down, and on zero, I let bang with by No. 7, just to get trajectory and No. 3328 was away.

We followed Lightning into the clouds and then turned home for a quiet cup of tea.

It so happened, although we were not to know it at the time, that when Lightning approached Junior High School, my old friend and namesake, Harry Young, was prodigiously spending his two bits on the teeing ground.

What more natural than when my blue flash warhead dropped into the cup, the spectators should rush up to the other Harry Young, congratulate him and drop a $100 bill into his hand.

★ ★ ★

Harry (73) Young has done this so often, of course, in these Gyro events that he took it all as a matter of course.

"It is inevitable" he said.

So in the confusion the Gyro member who picked the ball out of the cup, rushed to the phone to tell the Colonist about it. He looked at the ball and saw my name and address written upon it.

The Colonist reporter said, "Yes our Harry lives on Sunset Avenue," and at that stage nobody doubted the thing at all.

When I arrived home the following day and saw that I had won the $100, I was not surprised. I knew my Lightning was good, and I intended to offer it to General Pearkes as a home-made rival to the U.S. Bomarc.

But how suspicious some people are. When they discovered I was 90 miles away, they would not believe I had done the Gyro hole-in-one, and they immediately gave all the credit to the other Harry Young.

As Harry Mearns said "There are a darn sight too many Harry's about here."

However, I don't begrudge the honor to the other Harry Young. He is an old friend of mine, and after all he went to all the trouble of preparing the green for the hole-in-one contest.

Indeed the other Harry is an expert on greens. At one time he designed and owned the Cedar Hill Golf Course, and in those days people used to phone my house about 7 o'clock on Sunday morning and say:

"Are there many waiting to tee off?

"Can you give me a starting time?

"Is it a nice morning and how is the course playing?"

I got the other Harry many customers by telling them just how fast they could get off, before teeing-off back to my bed.

Now he has landed me out of the fix of having to pay income tax on that $100, and also keeping right my standing as a very amateur golfer with the RCGA. Thanks, old boy!

Durocher to Manage Again? Lions Lose Harry Langford

Leo Durocher, it was reported yesterday, is about ready to return as manager of a major league baseball club.

United Press International stated that an American League club, presumably the Chicago White Sox, was dangling the kind of offer that could bring Durocher back — a big salary as manager and a substantial stock interest.

Durocher confirmed that he is seriously considering the offer.

"I've had several offers since I left the Giants," he said, "and if the terms are right there is a strong possibility that I will be back."

Durocher, 54, left as manager of the New York Giants just before the end of the 1955 season and has since had a radio and TV career.

Al Lopez, the man Durocher would replace if he joined the White Sox, said he "knew nothing" about the report. Club officials had nothing to say.

B.C. LIONS yesterday lost two linesmen, one a proven Canadian star they were heavily counting on this year. Harry Langford, former all-star WIFU lineman with Calgary Stampeders, retired from the game, he said, because of pressure of business in Calgary. Import Walt Chattman, from Ventura (Calif.) College, said he was leaving for personal reasons . . . There were reports yesterday that either coach Clyde King or Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, will succeed Mayo Smith as manager of the Cincinnati Reds. King is said to have the inside track if a change is made . . . Bud Polle, who made the announcement himself, will be both manager and coach of the Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League in the 1959-60 season. Dennis Riggin, out last season with an eye injury, will be in goal for the Flyers and veteran defenceman Hugh Coflin became the first player to sign a contract.

Seeded Teams Reach City Doubles Semis

Play in the city hardcourts tennis championships yesterday was confined mainly to doubles.

Third-seeded Ted Smythe and "Doc" Miller reached the men's semi-finals by coming from behind for a hard-fought, three-set win over Gordon Hartley and Will Browne-Cave.

Bill Sparling and Jack Parker, seeded second, also reached the round of four with a 6-2, 6-3 win over the father-son combination of Don and Donnie McCormick.

Also reaching the semis were the ladies' team of Joy Wasson and Daphne Fisk and the mixed combination of Tommy Elmsley and Bob Peskett.

Today's draw follows:

VICTORIA LAWN

Last night's score: Eagles 14, Naval Vets 10.
Next game: Thursday, Eagles vs. Pages.

Naval Vets, who once owned a three-game lead in the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League, were dumped for the eighth straight game at Royal Athletic Park last night, dropping a 14-10 decision to the pace-setting Eagles, to drop four and a half games behind the leaders.

It's been almost three weeks since Gerry Parker's Vets have won a game, and they have beeen doing much of the damage themselves with bad defensive baseball.

They were at it again last night, bobbling six times to make the difference in a game in which they produced 10 of the 21 hits.

Catcher Jim Moody, getting three of his club's seven extra-base hits with two doubles and a triple, led the Eagles as they plated 13 of their runs in the first three innings and eased in from there.

Next games: Thursday, 6.45, Farmers vs. Navy, Central Park; Six Mile vs. Maycocks, Heywood Avenue Park.

Maycock Optical scored 10 runs in the final three innings at Heywood Avenue Park last night, capping the rally with five in the bottom of the ninth to edge Pat Bay Navy, 14-13, and strengthen their hold on first place in section II of the Senior Open Softball League.

A single by relief pitcher Jack Girard drove in the winning run, but it was the power hitting of Bob Sorenson and Amos Happy that did most of the damage. Happy hit a three-run homer in the ninth and also had a triple and a single. Sorenson, riding a hot streak at the plate, hit two homers and a pair of singles in five trips and scored four runs.

At Central Park, D & D Tire picked up its third victory of the season, a 7-4 decision over Half Way House.

TRIPLE PLAY

Highlight of the game was a triple play pulled by Half Ways in the second inning. With runners on first and second, shortstop Jerry Caldwell made a one-handed catch of Jock Doney's blooper, tossed to Len Glancy at second, and the relay to Tony Bishop at first completed the play.

It was the first such play in the league since pre-war days at Royal Athletic Park.

King Fisherman

Contest Lead Changed By First 40-Pounder

First 40-pound salmon entered in the Daily Colonist King Fisherman Contest was caught Monday night.

New leader in the spring salmon division is Ernie Atherton of 3741 Craigmiller. His fish, caught along the kelp beds on the Rocky Point side of Pedder Bay and entered at Pedder Bay Marina, weighed exactly 40 pounds.

It was caught on a Strip-Teaser fished with six ounces of weight in the early evening. Fishing-partner Bob Fenlon did the netting.

Atherton, a Colonist subscriber, took the lead from Commodore John Deane, who caught a 39½-pounder in the same area on June 16.

Certain to win a July Prince crest, Atherton also has a fair chance of topping the spring salmon division and winning the King Fisherman Trophy. If his fish stands up as the largest of the year, he would also win a Youngstown food disposal unit, offered by W. R. Menzies.

Meanwhile, more entries yesterday indicated that up-Island salmon fishing is good—whenever weather permits anglers to get out. Winds cut down considerably on fishing time over the weekend, in some spots blowing all action out, but telephoned reports told of fine prospects in most areas between Qualicum Beach and Campbell River.

Wakeham Finishes Third

VANCOUVER — Al Kennedy, an 18-year-old comer who predicted that he would win the British Columbia junior golf championship did just that yesterday when he toured his home course, Marine Drive, in 73 for the last round of the 36-hole medal-play tournament.

He shot a 69 in the first round on Monday to wind up with a sub-par 142, three strokes better than the score turned in by clubmate Terry Campbell, who added a 74 to his first-round 71.

Tied for third place were Bill Wakeham of Victoria, 1957 B.C. and Canadian champion, and Pete Morse, also of Marine Drive.

Wakeham skied to a 76 yesterday after a first-round 72, while Morse reversed the procedure with his 76-72.

Kennedy made his prediction last month when he just failed to qualify for championship match play in the B.C. Amateur. He was one of seven who shot 149 in the 36-hole qualifying round. One had to be cut and Kennedy was the loser when officials cut cards to decide who it would be.

Heart-broken, Kennedy vowed that he would win the B.C. junior title and follow up with another victory in the Sun Masters Tournament, which starts today. No one is arguing with him after his fine play Monday, when an out-of-bounds stroke cost him a 67.

John Morgan, Fraserview, the pre-tournament favorite, wound up fourth with 75-74—149.

Dick Munn, Victoria city junior champion, added a 74 to his opening 76 to tie for fifth place, at 150, with Barry Rhoades of Marine Drive.

Al McLeod, D. Humphries and Bud Foster of Victoria finished with 163, 163 and 167, respectively.

Fifteen-year-old Bruce Richards of the Overlake club near Seattle won the British Columbia juvenile boys' golf championship while trying to take the junior title.

Richards, who was described as not showing his true form, scored 74-79—153.

Annual Race For Carriers

Second annual newspaper carriers' bicycle race will be held along the north end of Blenkinsop Road Saturday morning beginning at 10.

The two and three-eighths mile race will start at Blenkinsop and Royal Oak and will finish at Blenkinsop and Simon.

Entry forms may be obtained at Carmichael's Cycle Shop and further information may be had by telephoning EV 4-8292.

Remember When:

Way back, 45 years ago today, Boston Red Sox paid a reported $2,900 to the minor-league Providence club for rookie pitcher George Herman Ruth. Ruth was a fair pitcher with Boston until he was sold five years later to New York Yankees, shifted to the outfield to become the greatest home-run hitter in major league history.

Nickel-containing stainless steel coffee urns are good-looking, easy to clean and resistant to corrosion.

QUALITY CANADIAN PRODUCTS
MADE FROM QUALITY INCO NICKEL

In Canadian restaurants, the trade mark of cleanliness is Stainless Steel
CONTAINING INCO NICKEL

Nickel-containing stainless steel is used in commercial dish-washing machines to withstand corrosive detergents.

Milk dispensers and refrigerators made of nickel-containing stainless steel, inside and out, protect the purity of foods.

Kitchens of modern restaurants use nickel-containing stainless steel soup kettles, pots, pans, sinks and counter tops.

Cleanliness, yes! And beauty, too. Nickel-containing stainless steel protects the food you eat . . . and makes the restaurants you eat in more attractive.

Nickel-containing stainless steel resists corrosion from the organic compounds present in foods. It is easy to clean . . . and it has a rich silvery lustre that stays bright and beautiful for years. No wonder so many modern Canadian restaurants use stainless steel equipment.

Nickel helps give stainless steel its lasting beauty and its exceptional resistance to rust and corrosion. Another example of quality Canadian products made from quality Inco Nickel.

Classroom Experiments

Diet Tests on Rats Wrong, SPCA Says

VANCOUVER (CP)—An official of the SPCA said here Tuesday that it is "morally wrong" to allow school children to watch classroom experiments which deprive animals of food.

Tom Hughes, manager of the organization, made the statement after it was reported to Vancouver school board that experiments were held on white rats in schools to show the effects of various diets on the animals.

Mr. Hughes told the school board in a letter that the SPCA opposes "the practice of using animals for experimental purposes which involve pain and suffering or neglect to such animals." He also said the SPCA "strongly deplores the effect this type of experiment has on children who witness them."

D. B. MacKenzie, assistant superintendent of elementary schools, said the experiments involving rats were conducted by the metropolitan health committee. School board employees do not use the animals for such purposes, he said.

Court Dismisses Contempt Charge Against Picketers

VANCOUVER (CP) — The B.C. Federation of Labor, which is supporting the National Association of Marine Engineers in a jurisdictional battle, won the first round of a court battle here Tuesday.

Mr. Justice A. D. MacFarlane said in the B.C. Supreme Court that he will dismiss contempt of court proceedings against 38 federation of labor men unless he uncovers some new information in legal precedents quoted to him Tuesday.

The contempt of court charges were laid after Northland Navigation Company claimed that the men flaunted a court order restraining them from picketing.

Lost Lad's Family Grateful to 200

Four-year-old Jimmy Pidgeon played busily around his trailer home yesterday afternoon, while his mother and father sent a heartfelt thanks to the 200 persons who helped look for the small boy Monday night.

"They came from everywhere to help," said Mrs. Ruth Pidgeon, "and they covered I don't know how much territory looking for Jimmy. We don't know most of them, but we want them to know how grateful we are."

Jimmy had finished supper and was out playing Monday when his older sister Diana, who'll be six in September, called him for bed. He couldn't be found.

His father L./Cpl. John Pidgeon of the 1st Battalion, PPCLI, and mother started looking for him. Soon they were joined by occupants of other trailers and cabins at Waldorf Auto Camp, 314 Goldstream, where the family lives.

"Next thing we knew," said Mrs. Pidgeon, "all the people came over from the beer parlor and joined in the search.

"Before we knew it, there were other men from the Patricias, and the RCMP, and volunteer firemen, and many more. They looked everywhere, some places several times."

Jimmy was finally found, at about 2.10 a.m., curled up and sound asleep in a storage space in the auto camp's main building. This was another spot that had been examined several times — but a curled-up four-year-old, sound asleep, fills a very small space.

They just didn't see him.

VANCOUVER — Dominion Bridge Company Monday filed a motion in the B.C. Supreme Court for seizure of the assets of Local 97, International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Ironworkers for failure to return to work on the new Second Narrows Bridge here.

Stomps Rain from German Clouds

Wilting Brave Fed Up

SOEST, Germany (Reuters)—The Canadian Army in Europe yesterday claimed something of a minor secret weapon for use against a current European heat wave—a Sioux Indian rainmaker.

The hot spell, and the consequent fire risk over Lueneburg Heath, had forced the army to suspend target practice planned for a Canadian artillery regiment attached to the NATO command in Germany.

The troops were sweating it out, awaiting cooler weather, when Pte. John A. Goodwill of Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., decided he had had enough.

Goodwill, a Sioux, got to his feet and in full uniform stamped into a traditional dance.

Platoon snickers died away half an hour later when it suddenly started to rain.

Goodwill refused to be amazed.

"I only did what my grandfather taught me," he said.

Head-Shavers Make Choice

BAARN, Holland (UPI)—Seven high school boys here shaved the head of another school boy.

The school director decreed their punishment: "Summer holidays cut by one week." Faces fell. Then he added: "Or you will have your own heads shaved." Baarn high school now has eight bald boys.

'Cindy' Boils In Atlantic

MIAMI (UPI) — Tropical storm Cindy boiled up in the Atlantic Ocean yesterday and began drifting slowly northward last night. The U.S. Weather Bureau here ordered a hurricane watch for the Carolinas coast.

Storm warnings were issued for south of Cape Hatteras, N.C., to north of Charleston, S.C.

TOKYO — Tokyo's public transport system is going to try perfume to ease the ordeal of commuting in summer heat.

Okanagan's Ogopogo Rears His Ugly Head

VERNON (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Block and their son Dennis say they saw Okanagan Lake's Ogopogo serpent off Cameron's Point, nine miles from here at the north end of the lake.

Mr. Block described the creature as dark green, smooth-skinned and shiny with its first hump eight feet behind the head. The serpent is normally reported farther south in the lake.

Solid Evidence

Tourist Inquiries Higher in June

First concrete evidence that this year's tourist business is stronger than last year's came from the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau's Government Street office yesterday.

Commissioner George I. Warren said that the number of tourists who called in at the bureau in June was nearly 3,000 higher than during June of 1958.

Mr. Warren said June callers this year numbered 12,879 compared to about 10,000 one year ago.

He also reported that the bureau did a land office business when it opened its doors for the first Sunday this season at the weekend. More than 300 visitors called in.

The figure jumped to a season's record 700 on Monday and neared that figure yesterday.

Queen Will Be There

'Random' Choice Made For Garden Party

Nearly 4,000 people of all ranks and classes, half of them from B.C.'s vast interior, will have an opportunity to see Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip at the annual garden party at Government House on July 17.

This year, for the first time, the invitation list to the party, given personally by the lieutenant-governor and his wife, is province-wide. The decision to expand it to cover the province — from Alaska to the United States border — was made by Lieutenant-Governor Ross and Mrs. Ross because of the presence of the royal couple.

OBTAIN NAMES

The provincial list includes representatives of clubs, organizations, the services, racial groups, business and industry. In each case the lieutenant-governor wrote to the provincial headquarters of the various groups to obtain the names of the individuals they wished to have invited.

Because this year's party is province-wide the usual practice of inviting everybody who has signed the Government House guest book has had to be abandoned. Just one in 20 has been selected at random because the grounds at Government House cannot possibly contain more than 4,000 people. The old system will be resumed next year.

Among those invited are 144 RCN seamen and 28 officers, 67 non-commissioned soldiers and 18 officers, and 60 RCAF airmen and 18 officers.

ALL OVER B.C.

There are 10 members of 4-H Farming Clubs, 50 ranchers, 100 farmers and 38 miners from all over the province.

As well as 219 mayors and reeves the list includes 660 prominent citizens representing most of B.C.'s communities. In most cases they were chairmen of last years' centennial committees.

The names from the precedence list—judges, parliamentarians, heads of churches and the armed services—total only 215.

30 GIRL GUIDES

There are 174 chairmen of school boards, 149 representatives of the lumber industry —including loggers— and 30 Girl Guides.

Among other groups represented are veterans of both wars, the IODE, numerous charitable organizations, Boy Scouts, Army, Navy and Air Force cadets and the RCMP.

Cameras at Party Most Improper

Protocol decrees that guests at the July 17 garden party at Government House, to be attended by Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, leave their cameras at home. A spokesman said it would be most improper to have the royal couple hounded by amateur cameramen as they walked on the Government House lawns.

If it rains on July 17 the party will be held in the Bay Street Armory.

Will Royal Couple Leave Car?

It's Up to Them, Says Committee; Map Shows Where Children Stand

★ ★ ★

Whether or not Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip will get out of their car to see Greater Victoria children at Clover Point July 17 will be a matter of royal choice, according to members of the civic royal visit committee.

But, they have indicated, they hope there will be at least a brief stop at the point, and perhaps a walk around the road loop.

Stationed around the loop will be young members of the St. John Ambulance, Protestant Orphanage, Federation of Canadian Artists, YMCA, YWCA, Sea Cadets, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, Canadian Girls in Training, United Church, and United Cadet Service.

In the Colonist map above, the route of the Queen and Prince Philip is in solid white. The royal cavalcade enters from the west along Dallas, proceeds around the loop on Clover Point, and exits to the north along Moss.

Parking areas for all vehicles carrying children to the Clover Point review may be located by referring to the key symbols in the lower right-hand corner.

All viewing areas allotted to various groups of youngsters are designated on the map.

Unloading and loading areas for the 4-H Clubs, Anglican Church, Esquimalt parks, Saanich parks and city parks organizations will be on Dallas Road at the foot of Marlborough and Cambridge Streets. Approach of buses and cars to this area must be by Cook Street or Beacon Hill Park.

The remaining groups, Oak Bay Parks, St. John Ambulance, the Protestant Orphanage, F.C.A., YMCA, Boy Scouts, YWCA, Sea Cadets, CGIT, United Church, United Cadet Service and Girl Guides will unload and reload at the locations east of Clover Point, approaching from Memorial Crescent or from the Ross Bay area of Dallas Road.

All cars and buses are to go to the designated parking areas after unloading.

After debarking from vehicles, groups of youngsters will assemble and dispatch markers to positions indicating the extremities of their alloted areas.

On orders of the marshal the groups will fall in between their markers. This must be completed by 2.15 p.m.

After departure of the royal couple, groups are to remain in their places until the marshal sends them back to their original unloading areas.

Tattered But Treasured

Old and tattered after 46 years use, this tattered tartan travelling rug is still a treasured possession of George Clayton, 2855 Gorge View. Mr. Clayton served the Royal Family for nine years within the walls of Sandringham and at the Royal Family's country seat in Norfolk. The rug, and a marble paperweight, were given to him by Queen Alexandra when he left for Canada in 1913.—(Colonist photo.)

May Meet Queen

He's at Home With Royalty

Few people meet members of the royal family without a feeling akin to awe, but if Queen Elizabeth or Prince Philip speak to George Clayton, 2855 Gorge View, next week he'll feel quite at home.

Still tall and erect despite his 67 years, Mr. Clayton has . . .

"Spotted" billiard balls for King Edward VII, Kaiser Wilhelm II, the Earl de Gray and the King of Norway;

Carried shot for King Edward VII and King George V while they hunted at Sandringham, and Played football with King George VI and the Duke of Windsor.

So royalty holds no terrors for George Clayton. He will be sitting in a special seat at the civic ceremony to be held in Beacon Hill Park July 17.

A native of Dirsingham, Norfolk, a small village near Sandringham, Mr. Clayton entered service at the royal family's country seat in 1904, when he was 12 years old. Four years later he entered the royal family's private post office.

After five years in the post office he left England for Canada. Queen Alexandra, consort of King Edward VII, presented him with a travelling rug and a pearl marble paperweight as going-away gifts.

"I think Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip are a fine young couple and I think they are the making of something to try and bring peace to the world," he says.

U.K. Educator Speaks Here

A noted British educator, Dame Olive Wheeler, will address the Victoria branch of the English Speaking Union at Victoria College at 8.15 p.m. July 18.

Dame Wheeler, one-time dean of the faculty of education at the University of Manchester and later professor of education and dean of the faculty of education at University College, Cardiff, Wales, will speak on recent developments in British education.

Beaver, Elk Lakes

Boat Ban Bylaw Readied

Saanich council is having a special bylaw prepared to ban power boats from Beaver Lake and restrict them to a northwest section of Elk Lake.

If the draft bylaw is found to be impossible to enforce power boats will be banned completely from the lakes, Reeve George Chatterton said last night.

A five-point basis for the proposed bylaw was hammered out last night at a special meeting of the council's lands and planning committee, attended by representatives of power boat owner organizations and the Elk Lake Ratepayers' Association.

The five points are:

Limiting the use of boats to the northwest part of Elk Lake, with no restrictions as to speed or power;

Definition of a line from two points on the lake shore, beyond which the boats may not go;

Restriction of launching of the boats to the shoreline of the northwest part of Elk Lake;

Regulations covering the safe driving of power boats within the restricted area, and

Swimming to be allowed within the area to which the use of power boats is restricted.

The question of licensing power boats for operation on the lake—providing numbers to identify boats in the event of a complaint—was referred to police chief W. A. Pearson for comment.

Reeve George Chatterton said last night the council is still trying to ban float planes from the lake.

Compromise

Work Out Settlement Mayor Asks

Both sides in the B.C. coast lumber strike "know perfectly well there's going to be a compromise some place along the line" and should get together to reach it, Mayor Percy Scurrah said yesterday.

"I could never understand why it's not possible to sit down at a table and stay there until that compromise is reached without the loss, bitterness and hardship a strike brings," the mayor said.

He described the strike as a tragedy—"It's so far reaching. It goes into every part of the economy of the city and the province."

New Form Proposal

Scurrah Bucks Health Board Unless Council Sets Budget

Mayor Percy Scurrah will oppose establishment of a health board in a new form, he said yesterday, unless it is perfectly clear that council will retain control of the city's health expenditures.

As a result of a Greater Victoria school board demand for a "properly constituted" health board, a new agreement is being framed for submission to the partners in the board—Victoria, Esquimalt and the school board.

WHOLE DISTRICT

The new health board would serve residents of Victoria and Esquimalt and school children throughout the Greater Victoria school district. Some schools in the district are now served by the Oak Bay and Saanich health units.

The new board would hire its own employees, now hired by the city.

MAYOR AWAY

City council at its last meeting approved in principle the establishment of a new board, but Mayor Percy Scurrah, absent at the time, said yesterday he was concerned about its degree of autonomy.

"I'm not in favor of any further boards with budgets over which city council has no control, and for which council would just be a collection agency," he said.

'ONLY WAY'

If council had control over its health expenditures and the board had to get along with the amounts council approved, he said, "that would be the only way, and that will have to be very clear before I vote for it."

Third Liberty Ship Here This Morning

Third 10,000-ton Liberty ship destined for a ship-breaking yard in Japan was scheduled to berth at VMD outer wharf this morning.

She joins her sister ships brought here earlier, one by the powerful Sudbury II from Olympia, Wash., and the other by the tug Island Sovereign from Astoria, Ore.

The ships will be prepared for the long trans-Pacific tow at local shipyards — two at VMD and the third at Yarrows Ltd.

Preparatory work includes removal of the propeller, securing the rudder, rigging of chains forward to secure the tow rope, and a general "fitness check."

An official of Island Tug and Barge Ltd. said the first pair of ships will leave here in a few days, towed by the Sudbury II.

Saanich Closes Deal For School Playground

Reeve George Chatterton said last night that a "completely satisfactory" arrangement was worked out with School District 63, Saanich, authorities to use Royal Oak Elementary School for a supervised playground.

The playground opened yesterday under a supervisor moved from the Oak Street playground, which council decided to discontinue.

This is regarded as a pilot project in a scheme which Saanich hopes to bring into operation using school grounds both in District 63 and School District 61, Greater Victoria, to save tax dollars on duplication of recreational facilities.

Councillors have criticized spending on development of school and parks properties

W. Curley Wins Car

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann: How can I teach my three young daughters (ages 4, 6 and 7) perfect manners when their grandfather sits at the table and eats like an animal?

My husband's father came to live with us last year when his wife died. He's 72 and had a stroke three years ago. He also has palsy and his hands shake badly. He spills things on himself and makes noise with soup, tea and other liquids. Sometimes we can hardly hear ourselves speak over his slurping.

I've suggested that the old man eat in the bedroom but my husband won't hear of it. When I scold the girls about Carelessness at the table they say "Grampa does it." What can I do? — DISTRESSED MOTHER.

★ ★ ★

Dear Distressed: You can put your nose back in joint and revamp your values. SOME things in life are more important than perfect manners. Respect for older people is one of them.

Explain to the girls that Grampa is old and not very well. Don't apologize for him or downgrade him in any way. Let them know he's a senior member of the family and entitled to the privileges that come with age.

Isolating Grampa at meal time would be cruel. And it would deprive your daughters of the opportunity to learn one of life's most valuable lessons —respect for their elders.

A Legitimate Complaint?

Dear Ann: My sister-in-law and I are writing this letter together. Do we have a legitimate complaint or not? We married brothers. We were both in the hospital last year having babies. Our mother-in-law didn't send us any flowers. When she came to visit she said "flowers are not practical. I'd rather put the money into a useful gift."

Last week her other daughter-in-law had a baby. When we went to the hospital to see her we noticed a bouquet from our mother-in-law. It was so huge it had to be put in two vases. In addition there was a fat check attached to the card. Do we have a right to complain or not?—ALICE AND PAULA.

★ ★ ★

Dear A and P: To whom would you like to complain—your congressman? Surely you wouldn't mention this to your mother-in-law! A gift is whatever people want to give. Forget it.

A Pain in the Neck

Dear Ann: A certain woman who works energetically in one of our organizations is so aggressive she's actually a pain in the neck. She's the type who likes to be generous — with other people's money.

This is what she does: Whenever the smallest excuse arises she goes around collecting money from the club members. Weddings, funerals, anniversaries, new births, and graduations are her specialty. She calls on the phone and says "'Mrs. Schnickelfritz's daughter is getting married. Several of us are chipping in $3 to buy her a silver tray. Of course you want your name on the list."

More often than not I don't know Mrs. Schnickelfritz well enough to buy her daughter anything, but I don't want to look cheap, so I say yes.

The "organizer" makes herself a big woman with all this activity. She puts the names of the donors on the card and at the bottom she adds: "Idea conceived and carried out by Mrs. . . . (herself.)"

What do you call such a person—and how can I protect myself against her?—OUTMANOEUVRED.

Dear Outmanoeuvred: There are many descriptive nouns in the English language but the word that BEST describes her is a German word . . . "kochleffel." It loses a lot in the translation, but it means "cooking spoon."

The best way to cope with a kochleffel of this variety is to simply say "I hardly know Mrs. Schnickelfritz and I'm sure she'd think it strange if my name appeared on the list. Thank you for calling, but I'd rather not."

A LOVELIER YOU

By Mary Sue Miller

TEEN BEAUTY SECRET: Do you know, Miss Teen, that it is impossible to be a part-time lovely? It's all, or nothing at all!

No amount of primping on Saturday afternoon will produce the finished appearance you desire for a Saturday night date, unless you have taken pains with your day-to-day grooming. To bloom on date nights, your skin must have scrupulous daily cleansings and an application of a cream or lotion, suited to it.

Your hair has to be brushed and arranged to perfection every day, or it will never fall in line when you want it to. As for hands, they can be nothing but grubby, if they are not constantly brush-scrubbed and lotioned.

Only by following this scheme can you be sure of making a smooth appearance on date nights. There's a bonus in the effort, too. You come to look prettier all the time, than when you only took special care.

P.S: Since you have more leisure, summertime is ideal for cultivating steady grooming habits. Make a project of it and long before fall, you'll reap a bumper crop of loveliness.

YOUR GROOMING—A TO Z

Put aside your grooming doubts and worries! Send today for Your Grooming—A to Z, a booklet that covers every step in achieving smooth looks. It tells how to manicure and pedicure, use deoderants and depilatories, bathe for beauty, tend feet, hands, teeth and eyes, polish skin and hair, care for clothes, apply perfume, overcome personal poser's. To obtain your copy, write me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20c in coin.

What's Cooking!

Bread Making Isn't the Job It Used to Be

By LOUISE MOORE

There's nothing so down right delicious as a loaf of home-made bread or hot rolls and if you wish to win compliments from the man of the house — without wheedling — set the yeast to rising.

Bread-making isn't the job it used to be in grandmother's day, when after a hard day's work she set the dough to rise overnight and then at dawn arose to shape and bake the bread or rolls. With modern conveniences little work is involved and you can whip up a batch in between other kitchen duties. So try a batch this weekend.

First we want you to have a recipe sent to me by a food editor from the sunny south and it is a delicious.

BUTTERMILK BREAD

Heat 1 cup buttermilk to scalding and then add 3 tblsp. sugar, 2½ tsp. salt and 6 tblsp. shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure 1 cup boiling water into large mixing bowl. Add 1 tsp. sugar, dissolve then cool to lukewarm and sprinkle in 1 package yeast. Let stand until yeast is dissolved. About 10 minutes. Add the lukewarm milk mixture.

Combine ½ tsp. baking soda and 3 cups of sifted all-purpose flour. Add to yeast mixture and beat until smooth. Stir in another 3 cups flour or just enough to make a soft dough and knead until smooth and elastic.

Place in greased bowl and flip it upside down lightly so that its now greased on the top too. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Turn out on lightly floured board and shape into loaves. Place in greased loaf pans and brush top with melted butter. Let rise 1 hour or until doubled in bulk.

Bake in hot oven (400) about 50 minutes or until loaves sound hollow when tapped, with the knuckles.

BUTTERSCOTCH ROLLS

Soften 1 package active dry yeast in ½ cup lukewarm water in which 1 tsp. sugar has been dissolved. Let stand 10 minutes then stir well. Scald ¾ cup milk and pour into bowl. Add 2 tblsp. shortening, 1 tsp. salt and ¼ cup sugar. Mix well and cool to lukewarm. Sift about 4 cups flour and stir 1½ cups of it into the cooled liquid and add 1 beaten egg. Beat well until smooth. Stir in the softened yeast and add remaining flour, using just enough to make a soft dough. Mix well. The softer the dough the better the buns.

Cover and set away from drafts. Let rest about 10 minutes. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. About 5 minutes. Place in lightly greased bowl, turning dough over to coat. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk. Punch down and bring dough down from sides of bowl and fold over. Let rise again until almost doubled in bulk. Round dough up into a ball and let rest for 10 minutes. Roll out into a rectangle about 18 x 9 inches. Mix ¾ cup brown sugar and 1½ tsp. cinnamon and ½ cup seedless raisins washed and dried.

Brush dough over with ¼ cup butter or margarine and sprinkle with the sugar and cinnamon mixture. Roll up as for jelly roll and cut in 1 inch slices. Mix 6 tblsp. butter or margarine with ⅔ cup sifted brown sugar and spread in bottom of 8 x 8 x 2 inch pan. Dot with walnuts if you wish and place rolls on top, cut sides up and down. Let rise until doubled in bulk and bake in mod. oven (375) about 25 minutes or until done. Cool a few minutes then invert rolls on rack. Makes 1½ dozen delicious butterscotch rolls.

PARKSVILLE—At the final meeting before the summer recess members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Mt. Arrowsmith Branch, No. 49, Canadian Legion, honored Mrs. G. L. Simpson, who is leaving the district after several years' active participation in the auxiliary. On behalf of the group, Mrs. D. E. Stewart, LA president, presented Mrs. Simpson with a gift.

Moore on July 4. Presiding at the tea urns were Mrs. E. Pollock and Miss M. B. Hearn and serving were Mrs. E. McIsaac, Mrs. M. Rocheleau and Miss E. Jernslet.

Knowles-Thompson

Roses, Carnations Carried by Bride

The Gorge Presbyterian Church was the scene of the wedding of Della Mae Thompson to Mr. Barry Joseph Knowles.

The Rev. David Murphy officiated at the ceremony of the daughter of Mrs. V. B. Lupkoski of 750 Queens Avenue and the son of Mrs. B. McDonald of Catherine Court and Mr. Larry Knowles of Vancouver.

A headband of pleated tulle, trimmed with white rosebuds, capped a dress of white cotton lace with nylon net inserts worn by the bride, who carried a crescent of red roses and white carnations. Her attendants, Mrs. Irene Dalley, Miss Verna Pearson and Mrs. Alice Renfrew, were arrayed in pink nylon and white feather bandeaux.

Mr. Robert Renfrew was the groomsman and Mr. Ron Barry and Mr. Ralph Thompson were ushers.

An orchestra played "True Love" for the bride's dance at the reception at Lougheed's Banquet Hall.

The bridal toast was proposed by Mr. Edward Logan, the bride's uncle.

Leaving for a tour of Alberta and Montana, the bride wore a charcoal lambswool suit with white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Knowles will live at 2941 Trent Street.

Victoria Kennel Club Show Saturday

Mrs. Wilfred D. Lougher-Goodey, 325 Linden Avenue, will present prizes at the Victoria City Kennel Club outdoor parlor show Saturday, July 11, at "Drumadoon," 3771 Haro. Cheetah and Honey, belonging to Mrs. M. Wiesman, of Norquay Road, are "borrowed" by Mrs. Lougher-Goodey to demonstrate just how beautiful the canine can be. Judge of the show will be Mr. George Donaldson, Victoria. The affair starts at 2 p.m. with entries taken from 1.30 p.m. Tea will be served.—(Colonist photo.)

Bride's Mother Sings 'I Love You Truly'

The bride's mother sang "I Love You Truly" during the signing of the register at a recent Langford wedding. The bride, Grace Evelyn Lafarelle, is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Naomi Lafarelle, of Langley, B.C., and the late James Lafarelle. The groom was Mr. William Ernest Foden, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Foden of Mirror, Alberta.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. T. Nelson, of Nipawin, Sask., the bride wore a tiered lace gown with sweetheart neckline embroidered with pearls and sequins. A coronet surmounted her chapel-length veil and her bouquet was of red roses and white stephanotis. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. June Terpstra, and Miss Leona Franz.

The groom chose Mr. John A. Foden as his bestman and Mr. Dick Albers as usher.

At a reception at Metchosin Community Hall Mr. J. A. Foden toasted the bride. The couple will reside at Langford.

Hayton-Glover

Now living on Blackwood Street are recent newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hayton, married in a pretty ceremony in Centennial United Church by the Rev. Douglas Carr.

The bride is the former Karen Glover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glover, Prior Street. The groom's parents, Mrs. V. M. Parks, of New Westminster, and Mr. J. Hayton of Langford.

For her wedding, the bride wore a full-length gown of lace and net on princess lines with a circular chapel veil trimmed with sequins and pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of red roses and stephanotis.

The groom's sister, Miss Carole Hayton was senior attendant in yellow chiffon with a bouquet of flame gladioli. The bride's sister, Heather Glover was bridesmaid in blue chiffon with yellow gladioli.

The groom's brother, Dale was best man and ushers were Mr. Gordon Hansen and Mr. Bill Kingcott.

She Cures Spastics But Won't Tell How

PERTH, Australia (WNS) — A 60-year-old Australian widow who has been curing spastic children for 16 years may died with her secret untold.

Mrs. Mildred Ross, Highgate, Western Australia, insists that her methods must be approved by the British Medical Association before she makes them public.

"I've had medical officials walking in and out of my place for 12 years," she said. "It is time they accepted or condemned me. But they won't give a verdict."

In the meantime, individual doctors in all Australia send patients to Mrs. Ross. And the federal taxation department holds that fees paid her are deductible as medical expenses.

To date, BMA officials have been the only adults admitted to her consulting rooms. Parents, who bring spastic children to her clinic three times each week, wait on the back porch.

As evidence of the efficacy of her cure, Mrs. Ross has a file of moving pictures, showing the case history of each patient.

9 IN MEMORIAM

SJOBERG—In loving memory of my dear husband, Kurt A., who passed away July 7, 1958.
The face I loved is now laid low,
His loving voice is still.
The hand so often clasped in mine,
Lies now in death's cold chill.
I often sit and think of him
When I am all alone;
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.
—Always remembered. Sedie.

TV TALK

"The Immortal Eye," a World's Stage presentation dealing with a corneal transplant, shown earlier this year, will be repeated Sunday because of overwhelming public interest.

Shown first over CBC on April 5, the program deals with the restoration of sight through a split-second transplant from a dead baby's eyes.

The half-hour play has drawn interest and response from all across Canada.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind reports that after viewing "The Immortal Eye," so many people donated their eyes to the Eye Bank of Canada "it is evident this film is a dynamic force in the campaign to stock the bank."

"Why can't you hang your hat where it belongs?"

In the London, Ont., area alone, offers from 11 would-be donors followed the film's first showing.

"The Immortal Eye" will be seen at 9 a.m. on channels 2 and 6.

9370 SIZES 10—18
Marian Martin

Shadow-slim sheath — marvellous for day or evening. Note alluring curve of shoulder line—dramatic V-dip in back. Sew-very-easy, so very smart in shantung, linen, cotton.

Printed Pattern 9370: Misses' sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards 35-inch.

Printed directions on each pattern part. Easier, accurate.

Send fifty cents (50c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Please write plainly size, name, address, style number.

Send your order to Marian Martin Pattern Dept., The Daily Colonist, 60 Front Street West, Toronto, Ont.

Color Doodle-Do!

532
by Laura Wheeler

Bring sunshine into your kitchen! Splash these lively roosters on towels, curtains and cloths.

Color to crow about—vivid applique in print 'n' plain contrasts with gay embroidery. Pattern 532: transfer of four motifs, 8x11 inches; pattern of patches.

Send thirty-five cents in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern to Laura Wheeler Needlecraft Department, The Daily Colonist, 60 Front Street West, Toronto, Ont. Print plainly pattern number, your name and address.

Send for a copy of 1959 Laura Wheeler Needlecraft Book. It has lovely designs to order: embroidery, crochet, knitting, weaving, quilting, toys. In the book, a special surprise to make a little girl happy—a cut-out doll, clothes to color. Send 25 cents for this book.

SPACE, DIGNITY AND COMFORT

You must see this stately family home located in Fairfield, one block from the sea. The rooms are spacious with inlaid oak floors. The entrance hall is 21 feet long and proportionately wide. Both living room and dining room are 21'x16'. Brick fireplaces in both the den and living room. To complete the main floor there is a three-piece bathroom, cabinet kitchen and utility. Climbing the handsome stairway you'll find four large bedrooms with enormous walk-in closets, a spacious hall and a four-piece bathroom. But this is not all. Up another carpeted stairway there's a big finished attic for the children's hobbies and projects. If that's not enough, let's look at the basement. Here you'll find a big rumpus room, laundry and an automatic oil-fired hot-water heating system. One look at the joists and foundations will convince you that this home is as sound as a bell and solid as a rock. The yard is small and easily-kept in order. Of course there's a garage. May I show you this gracious home without any obligation to buy? $14,950

The price has been drastically reduced for quick sale. Easy terms or trade-in your bungalow as down payment.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE BREAKS DOWN FAT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fat . . . actually breaks it down. It is an established medical fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fat is broken down and forms a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your body, precious liver bile helps break down fat the same way. Many foods reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down this fat . . . unblocks it . . . for easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills exclusive formula of natural, vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat in your body.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, get Carter's Little Liver Pills. Remember, Carter's not only relieves irregularity, but actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat.

Soviet Schooling Lacks 'Moral' Side

Technical Education Not Enough—Drew

LONDON (CP)—Lack of emphasis on moral and ethical aspects of education may prove the "Achilles heel" of the Russian way of life, Canadian High Commissioner George Drew said Tuesday.

Addressing a group of Canadian university professors and officials here for next week's Commonwealth education conference at Oxford, Drew acknowledged Russia's technical achievements but said free societies must continue to draw a clear distinction between moral and technical sides of education.

"Russia has experienced an immense intellectual explosion," the high commissioner said. "Shackled as it is by Communist dogma, the country is nevertheless going ahead in a way that threatens the whole Western world."

Drew, a former Ontario minister of education, is to lead the Canadian delegation at the Oxford conference July 15-29. His remarks were made to 14 members of the 20-man delegation at a preliminary meeting in Canada House.

The Oxford gathering, drawing 130 delegates from Commonwealth countries and dependencies, is to deal with a wide range of educational subjects, with emphasis on the plan for a multi-lateral exchange of scholarships and fellowships aimed at increasing the shared background of Commonwealth educational experience.

The exchange plan—described by Prime Minister Diefenbaker as foreshadowing a kind of "university of the Commonwealth" —is a Canadian initiative. Dr. Sidney Smith, former university president and external affairs minister who died last March 17, is believed to have played a large part in the genesis of the scheme.

Drew expressed hope that the exchange plan may have a "profound effect" on the Commonwealth Association.

Drew said the Canadian delegates, during their stay in Oxford, might ponder such questions as what has constituted the driving power behind the great periods of intellectual development in Egypt, Crete, Italy, Greece, the Byzantine empire and in Asia.

"It was more than money," he said. "It was something more than that which produced the unbelievable explosion of intellectual development in a city like Florence."

Lofty Disdain Collapses

British Brows Furrowed Over Vacation Protocol

LONDON (CP)—Britons are supposed to be an insular breed. When they condescend to take a holiday abroad, it is said, they expect the natives to conform.

This lofty disdain applies even to nomenclature. The English Channel, for instance. By what law, ask the sensitive French, is the Channel—known in France as La Manche, or Sleeve—any more English than French?

SELF-CONSCIOUS

If the generalization about insularity ever applied, it is losing force. Judging by recent developments, the holiday-bound Briton is increasingly self-conscious, his packsack stuffed with pamphlets on protocol, his forehead furrowed with frowns of concentration as he ponders what to wear on the beaches of Deauville or in the Casino at Cannes.

TROUSERS FLAG

This new self-awareness may spring from the forthright words of a British haberdasher named William Lemkin.

Lemkin referred to the coming holidays and said:

"I must confess that the thought of the probable holiday attire fills me with misgivings. Do these people pause for one moment and think that their trousers are in fact their country's flag? This is a serious matter. . . . I would like to see signs at airports and docks saying: 'Are you fit to be seen abroad?' "

BEST BEHAVIOR

Phyllis Heathcote, a British writer living in France, urged her countrymen to be on their best behavior abroad. She recalled a group of youngsters who tossed candies in the air and caught them in their mouths while travelling in a Paris subway. Others blew up balloons and deflated them amid gusts of laughter.

"Honestly now, don't you agree that these and other forms of amusement in somebody else's country are rather letting the side down?"

In The Sunday Times, Siriol Hugh-Jones worried that the celebrated English peaches-and-cream complexion looks odd amid French bathers tanned to the "color of toast, of tigers, of Ester Williams in the final close-up." She added:

"Englishmen with the bowlers and good dark suits ruthlessly peeled away have the defenceless, pallid look of brittle insects torn away from their scaly covering."

BIKINIS AND KHAKI

Habitues of French beaches know what Miss Hugh-Jones has in mind. Among bronze, Bikini-clad natives, a popular pastime is to pick out the Englishman with his long khaki shorts, and the Gallic guessers are hardly ever wrong.

Ghana Wants to Ban South African Goods

ACCRA, Ghana (Reuters)—A boycott of goods from South Africa has been decided at an extraordinary session of Ghana's Trade Union Congress.

A resolution adopted by the congress Sunday, at Takoradi, western Ghana, noted "ill treatment" of Negroes by South Africa's nationalist regime.

"The conference takes its stand to refuse to do anything with the white minority of South Africa," is said, adding that Ghana's maritime union will refuse to unload South African goods in Ghana ports.

Meanwhile, in South Africa, the newspaper Rand Daily Mail said the nationalist government is concerned that a trade boycott announced by Jamaica might prove contagious. The Jamaican government last Wednesday announced the ban in protest against its radical policy.

Scientist Victim

Bat Cave Virus Fatal

LONDON (AP)—A mysterious virus contracted during research in the bat caves of Africa was blamed Tuesday for the death of an American scientist.

Willis E. Snow, 40, of Bailey Springs, Ala., died a month ago in a London hospital. He had arrived in Britain from Africa only 10 days previously.

At an inquest Tuesday, a government pathologist, Dr. F. E. Camps, said it had been learned that Snow had been collecting insects in bat caves in a study of diseases that may be insect-transmitted.

Dr. Camps said the public health laboratory is satisfied that Snow died of a so-far-unknown virus. He added that bacteriologists are continuing with their experiments because "it is important to know what the disease was."

Full-Time Clinics Deter Suicides

MELBOURNE, Australia (CP)—Around-the-clock clinics to deter would-be suicides are to operate in Melbourne and Sydney.

At the Melbourne centre four telephones will be manned night and day, and welfare officers will always be available. The Sydney clinic will be part of the neurosis ward at a new $9,000,000 psychiatric centre.

In a television discussion Dr. Cunningham Dax, a mental hygiene authority, said there is no doubt that lives can be saved if persons contemplating suicide had "someone to turn to" in their mental crisis.

Committee of Seven To Run CBC Two Months

OTTAWA (CP)—A management committee of seven senior CBC personnel will run the affairs of the publicly-owned corporation while vice-president E. L. Bushnell is on two months' leave of absence and president Alphonse Ouimet is convalescing from an operation.

Announcement of this move by the CBC board of directors' executive committee was made Tuesday in the Commons by J. M. Macdonnell, minister without portfolio and acting revenue minister.

The decision of the committee was reached at a meeting in Montreal during the week-end attended by R. L. Dunsmore of Montreal, Kate Aitken of Toronto and Raymond Dupuis of Montreal.

The two other members of the executive committee—Mr. Ouimet and Mr. Bushnell—did not attend.

The management committee is headed by Col. Rene P. Landry, recently named assistant to the president and a long-time management official of the CBC.

Mr. Macdonnell, reading a statement by the CBC executive committee, said Mr. Bushnell has been granted leave of absence for two months and that Mr. Ouimet is expected back in his office in two to four weeks. Mr. Ouimet has been ailing for six months.

Red China Unrecognized

Talks on Tibet Out For UN, Says Nehru

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru said Tuesday that the United Nations, by refusing to recognize Communist China, has "rather prevented itself" from discussing such problems as Tibet.

Nehru repeated at a press conference a government statement made last week saying it would be "improper and not justified" for India to recognize any form of Tibetan government-in-exile on Indian soil.

Asked about the possibility of the UN considering the problem of Tibet, he said:

"Broadly speaking, the question has always arisen in bringing up any matter connected with the People's Republic of China that the United Nations has rather prevented itself from considering such matters in the sense that when they do not recognize a certain great country then to pass judgment on it becomes difficult."

"It is an odd position," Nehru said.

On the question of troubled Kerala state in southern India, where opposition groups are attempting to force the resignation of the state's Communist government, Nehru said he had suggested holding fresh elections there in the hope of breaking through "the wall of conflict."

He said the situation could not be dealt with by police firing or by the kind of picketing that is going on.

Amateurs Find Buried Palace

EWELL, England (AP)—Amateur archaeologists have discovered the remains of Nonsuch Palace, last and greatest of the five palaces built by Henry VIII. Following an ancient plan, a group of housewives, students and other volunteers discovered the foundations shortly after digging began.

Esquimalt to Support Planning Board Appeal

Esquimalt council has agreed to back a proposal to seek a B.C. Municipal Act amendment designed to provide an avenue of appeal against decisions of the Capital Region Planning Board.

It backed the move in spite of the fact that it had agreed to participate in the capital region planning scheme without any such measure.

Coun. G. K. Sammon said that with such an amendment the remaining three municipalities in the Greater Victoria area might agree to the Capital Region Planning Board proposal.

Plan to seek such an amendment was put forward by the board to meet one of the major objections of some municipal officials — that as originally constituted it wielded too much power.

Details of whom the appeal would be made to have not yet been disclosed.

Three Victoria men have been honored by the Order of St. John.

The list was released under authority of Governor-General Vincent Massey.

Dr. William Bell, corps surgeon attached to the Victoria Nursing Corps of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, was named an officer brother.

John Henry Smith, 244 Michigan, and Benjamin Charles Bracewell, 121 Howe, chairman of the St. John Ambulance Association, were named serving brothers.

Threw Away Her Insulin

'Faith-Cured' Woman Dies

DETROIT (AP)—A woman diabetic who said she threw away her insulin in the belief she had been cured by faith died Sunday in hospital.

A medical examiner's hearing was scheduled to determine whether Mrs. Wanda Beach, 37, of Stanton, Mich., died of insulin withdrawal or other causes.

The woman, a diabetic since infancy, came here Friday to attend services of evangelist Oral Roberts. She called her parents Friday night and told them she was completely cured.

A member of Roberts' party, R. F. DeWeese, said: "This is a tragic case. We constantly advise people never to do a thing like that. We advise them to go to their own doctors and get a medical examination and clearance before stopping medical treatment."

Garden Notes

Sweetening Sweet William

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

The old-fashioned Sweet William seems to be coming back into favor again, and I have been pleasantly surprised this season to keep running across this old favorite of mine in so many gardens.

Nearly all these plants have been grown from seed, sown either by their owner or by the greenhouse operator from whom the plants were purchased. It must be remembered that these seed-grown plants are something of a mixed bag, and any given batch of them will contain a certain proportion with wishy-washy colors or poorly formed blooms, along with a few superb specimens. Until the plants actually bloom, there is no way of separating the sheep from the goats.

With this in mind, it is a good idea to up-grade your Sweet William collection by taking cuttings this month from your most attractive specimens. Plants grown from slips taken and rooted in July will bloom next year, bearing flowers identical in every way with those of the parent plant.

Select a few of the strongest and healthiest side shoots from the plants with the most attractive flowers. Remove some of the lower leaves, and cut through the stem with an old razor blade just below a node or joint. Rooting can be speeded up considerably by dipping the cut end in a hormone rooting powder such as Rootone, Auxan, Hormonex or Ree-Root No. 1. Moisten the cut end slightly first, then knock off any excess powder.

If you have a coldframe or a small homemade propagating case, such as I have described previously, this is ideal for rooting the slips. Otherwise insert them in an open bed of rather sandy soil in a shaded location. Pour a little water around each cutting to bring the soil into firm contact with the stem base, and make a practice of spraying over the foliage with clear water at frequent intervals until the roots have formed. Your new plants should be ready for setting out in their flowering location by late September.

Biennial bearing is a term applied to apple trees which have developed the habit of bearing good crops only every second year. This bad habit isn't an easy one to break, for the tree's growth has gotten out of step with the seasons, and it bears such a terrific crop in its "on" year that it exhausts itself, and must take a year off to recover.

Apple trees are not the only plants to develop this biennial bearing habit, though, and I have a hunch that a lot of our ornamental flowering shrubs may be headed in this direction. I have never seen such a profusion of bloom on lilacs, mock orange and similar shrubs as appeared this year, and it is quite possible that bloom will be thin next year in consequence.

This biennial habit can become quite pronounced if it isn't nipped in the bud, and there are one or two little things we can do for these shrubs to help them overcome the exhausting effect of carrying such a heavy load of blossom.

All spent bloom should be removed before seeds form, for seed-making places a terrific strain on any plant. Feed your plants now, using a Ross Root Feeder or by pouring a fertilizer solution over the roots, and spread a mulch to keep the roots cool and moist.

Probably the most valuable nursing care you can give your shrubs, though, is simply to wet down the foliage frequently, either with plain water or, better still, with a weak fertilizer solution. One tablespoonful of an "instant" type of fertilizer per gallon of water is about right, and if you can give your shrubs this attention every week for the next two months, you'll be rewarded by bigger and healthier leaves and another wealth of bloom next year.

They Devour Whole Arm That Feeds Them

All Sex Kittens Grow Claws

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Movie stars don't bite the hand that feeds them. They devour the entire arm!

Producers and studios nurture the neophyte performers, hand-feeding them when necessary, to bring them to stardom. But once they reach the top, Charlie, run for your life.

Marilyn Monroe was just another blonde starlet when 20th Century-Fox studios wound up the old razzmatazz and balleyhooed her to international fame. After she became Hollywood's sex kitten Marilyn refused assignments, demanded more money, wanted out of her contract and went on suspension.

Once again, movieland's kitten became a tigress.

Joe Pasternak, who recently completed his 50th movie, is an exception. He's working on a new picture now, "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," with oldtimers David Niven and Doris Day. But his next, "Unholy Spring," will feature a new crop of unfamiliar faces.

"We've got to develop new stars or we'll all be out of business," Pasternak rasped.

Joe, a doughty little Hungarian, who pushed Deanna Durbin, Jane Powell and June Allyson to the top, sighed, "There are three sexes—males, females, and actresses.

Pasternak related a story about a now-famous singer who couldn't find a movie job until Joe starred him in a highly successful picture.

"When he signed the contract he was overwhelmed with joy," Joe recalled. "He came to my house, ate all the food, drank all my booze, then fell to his knees promising to be my slave for life.

"Now we do a fade-out. It's two years and three big pictures later.

"The star marches into my office with his agent. He is wearing a homburg and a diamond stick-pin. He's not even talking to me. So I outline the story of a new picture and his agent is shocked. His client wouldn't appear in such a terrible film.

"Then I said, 'If I can clear it with the higher-ups, maybe we could star the boy in a religious picture playing the All-Mighty.'

"The agent slaps his hands together and cries, 'That's exactly what we had in mind!' and the star is smiling happily.

"See what I mean about gratitude?"

Lee to Patch Career with £8,000

LONDON (NANA)—When I asked Liberace what he would do with the £8,000 he was awarded in his libel suit against the London Daily Mirror and columnist Cassandra, Lee told me: "I will use it to repair the damage that has been done to my career. I will put the money in proper kind of promotion. I have received a thousand letters a day about the case since I came to Europe. I will answer every one of them. I can't tell you, Sheilah, what a load has been lifted from me." Next U.S. date for Liberace, he opens the new arena in Los Angeles July 16. Lib will have an audience with the Pope in Rome soon.

★ ★ ★

The British critics panned the George Gobel TV appearance in London. Not surprising—George is suing BBC for showing kinescopes of his American shows without cutting him in on the profits. He's also suing NBC in the States for selling them to London.

★ ★ ★

Wagon Train is the No. 1 TV show in England, but all the Hollywood-made westerns are popular, especially Cheyenne, rated second; Maverick, third in popularity; Gunsmoke—here they call it Gun Law—and Have Gun, Will Travel.

★ ★ ★

Some exciting fare from ABC London—here it's the TV subsidiary of Associated British Cinemas. Robert Morley has played Mr. Micawber in the 39 half-hour telefilms, Tales from Dickens. And the boy who plays David Copperfield is a look-alike for Freddie Bartholomew when he played young David.

★ ★ ★

Also from ABC Five filmed one-hour shows, Winston Churchill's History of the English Speaking Peoples, with Sir Winnie getting a huge sum for the TV rights, and Sir Laurence Olivier signed for the commentating job. The series has already been sold to NBC for an enormous sum.

★ ★ ★

Katharine Hepburn speaking: "You know my reputation with the press? I'm not really that bad, but I'll stick with it." Katie is living up to her reputation. Telephoned on a publicity matter at 1 p.m., she said, "Are you daring to call me—don't you know I do absolutely nothing for publicity? The press agent for her "Suddenly Last Summer," a Columbia release, promised Katie fervently, "Okay, I shall devote the next two months to seeing that you don't get any."

★ ★ ★

Before leaving Hollywood, I was told the British press had been kind to Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher. Not so—and the furious Liz who had at first agreed as Mrs. Fisher to talk to the press if she could censor the stories, has now clamped down into a determined silence. In Paris, she and Eddie wouldn't talk, but a newspaper ran a four-column story anyway, with quotes from Liz on late husband Mike Todd that she says she didn't say. A lawyer has been called in.

★ ★ ★

Producer Sam Spiegel says he has bought the film rights to "Irma La Douce," the most popular play in London. But Raoul Levy insists he is still bidding for the musical shenanigans, to star his pet, the peeved Brigitte Bardot who is insisting she will retire from her career because of the fuss and furor attending her marriage to Jacques Charrier.

Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHENKEN and RICHARD L. FREY

Vul: N–S	NORTH ♠ J 10 9 ♡ J 5 ◇ 8 6 5 3 ♣ Q J 6 2

	SOUTH ♠ A K Q 8 7 ♡ A K Q 6 3 ◇ 4 ♣ A 5

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 ◇	Pass	Pass	2 ◇
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	6 ♠
All Pass

Opening lead: Diamond king.

South re-opened the bidding with a cue-bid — correct in spite of his holding a losing diamond—to insure that North would not drop the auction until game was reached. His final slam bid was a gamble, but South hoped that his partner either held the club king, or that North's clubs could be sluffed on his own heart suit.

Without West's opening bid, the logical play for the contract would appear to be the club finesse. But from the bidding, West was marked with the club king, and declarer decided to play for a 3-2 trump split, and a dummy reversal. This is a technique which often escapes a declarer's notice because we are accustomed to use the dummy's usually shorter trump suit to do the ruffing.

Declarer trumped the diamond continuation with the spade queen, led a low heart to dummy's jack, and ruffed another diamond with the spade king. The spade seven was led to dummy's nine, and the last diamond ruffed with the spade ace. North regained the lead via South's spade eight. Now, when the last trump was drawn, South ditched his low club! Declarer won three spade tricks, five hearts, three diamond ruffs and the club ace—for a total of twelve and the small slam.

MP Can't Sleep

Big Ben To Keep Booming

LONDON (AP)—Labor MP Frank Allaun Tuesday complained that Big Ben is a booming nuisance and should be silenced while Londoners try to sleep.

The deep-throated chimes of the famous Westminster clock were thundering through the House of Commons as Allaun suggested they should be stopped at least between midnight and 6 a.m.

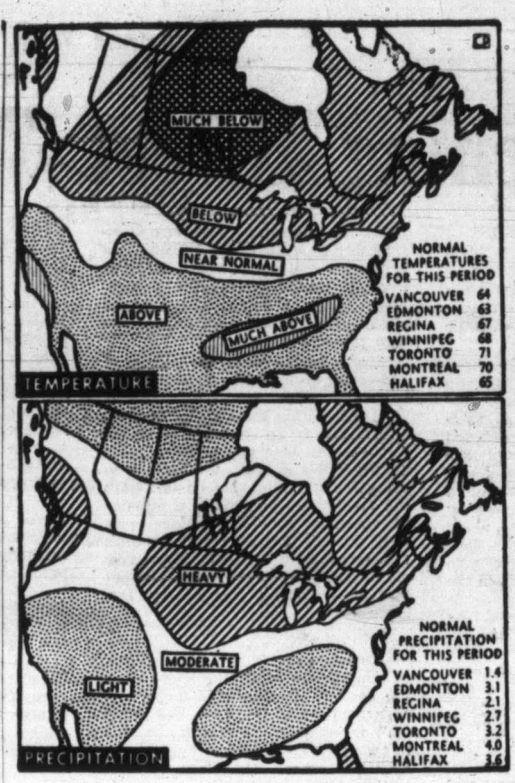
He charged they disturb the sleep of 2,000 patients in St. Thomas's Hospital across the Thames from Parliament.

Speaker W. S. Morrison—whose official residence is not 50 yards from the foot of Big Ben's tower—listened sympathetically and called for the government to answer.

But government spokesman Harmar Nicholls turned down Allaun's plea.

"I slept for two years in St. Stephen's Club, quite close to Big Ben, and I can assure you I slept very well indeed," he said.

The first complete English edition of the Bible was published in England by Miles Coverdale in 1535.



Long-Range Outlook: Wet

Not-so-pleasant forecast for this area's weather is the word from U.S. weather bureau's 30-day outlook—near-normal temperatures but heavy rainfall. There were two hopeful points: long-range outlook has proved not 100 per cent accurate in the past, and Victoria lies in its own little weather pocket with a climate much drier than surrounding mainland areas.

$13,000,000 Behind Group

Pipeline Financing Feasible Utility Witnesses Testify

Financing of a Vancouver firm to build a natural gas pipeline from the B.C. mainland to Vancouver Island was pronounced feasible by two underwriters testifying before the Public Utilities Commission yesterday.

Norman R. Whittall, a director of Westcoast Transmission Co. and Inland Natural Gas Co., told the commission he is prepared to head up a group of Canadian investors interested in backing the $13,000,000 proposal of Magna Pipeline Co. Ltd.

Magna has applied to the PUC for a certificate of public convenience to link Vancouver Island to the mainland by means of twin flexible pipelines which would feed Westcoast Transmission gas to Victoria, Nanaimo, Port Alberni and industrial installations in between.

A second financial figure, Leonard Dickson of Bear, Stearns & Co., New York, said financing of Magna was an acceptable venture.

Two associated companies opposing Magna's application for PUC certification yesterday asked that no certificate be issued for six months.

The companies, Vancouver Island Transmission Co. and Vancouver Island Gas Co. said they would seek a certificate of public convenience for supply of gas to Vancouver Island if major industries were prepared to convert to natural gas.

A witness called by the opposing companies and representing a Texas pipeline construction company said installation of a rigid steel pipeline between Vancouver Island and the mainland would be quite practical.

The hearing was to continue today and is expected to end before noon.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Train Wreck

10 Carloads Of Alcohol Up in Flame

MARION, N.C. (UPI) — Twenty-six cars of a Clinchfield Railroad freight train plunged off a trestle Tuesday and 10 cars filled with alcohol exploded into flames, threatening a nearby butane gas plant before the blaze was controlled.

The alcohol burned for three hours before the fire was finally brought under control. No injuries were reported.

It was the second major train derailment in the South in recent days. A week ago Sunday, tank cars containing butane gas exploded as a Seaboard Air Line Railroad freight train derailed crossing a trestle near Meldrim, Ga., and 22 persons died.

CITY IWA LIKELY TO DEFY COURT'S BAN ON PICKETING

Mother Fined $50 —Stole for Baby

CALGARY (CP)—A young Edmonton mother was fined $50 and costs Tuesday after she pleaded guilty to stealing two bottles of vitamin pills for her baby.

Court was told Beatrice Brayshaw, 20, was seen in two drug stores stealing vitamin pills worth a total of $6. Similar charges against her husband, Glen H. Brayshaw, were withdrawn at the request of the Crown.

Wenner-Gren Plan:

Rails to Yukon Start in 1960

VANCOUVER (CP) — Officials of the Wenner-Gren B.C. Development Co. said last night the company's proposed northern railway will probably run northwestward from Prince George to the Yukon border.

Decision on a final route won't be made for several months yet, but aerial surveys are being made along this general northwesterly route, which would add 500 miles of steel to B.C.'s railway system.

Company executives Bernard Gore, Einar Gunderson and Birger Strid told reporters that a final decision will probably be made Oct. 30 and construction will start in early summer of 1960.

Aerial surveys of the general route will be completed in several weeks and this will enable engineers to recommend a precise route and to decide whether it will be a monorail or conventional railroad.

PART OF U.S. PLAN

It is considered likely that such a northwesterly route will be part of a general plan for a United States railroad to Alaska.

A northerly route from Fort St. John had been one of the plans under study by the engineers, but this has been ruled out.

It's also considered possible the railway may run beyond the Yukon boundary.

Consulting engineer Col. Sidney Binham is overseeing the choice of a route. He is a specialist on military transport and was an advisor to the U.S. government and armed forces.

MILLS, PLANTS

A monorail was considered by the company in an overall development plan of the north which would include mills and plants. But it was reported here that because of U.S. interest in the line as a route to Alaska, the probability of a monorail has almost been ruled out.

Herter to Consult Canada on Geneva

WASHINGTON (CP)—Canada may play a part in the formation of the Western position in the new session of Geneva talks opening Monday, state department officials said Tuesday.

State Secretary Christian Herter will fly to Ottawa Saturday for a round of discussions with Prime Minister Diefenbaker and External Affairs Minister Green before going on to Geneva Saturday night.

This will be Herter's first official visit to Ottawa since he succeeded the late John Foster Dulles last April. While there has been no formal declaration by the American government as to what he will discuss, American diplomats made clear that an exchange of views on the Geneva situation undoubtedly will be the first item of business.

Herter's aides said he is proceeding overseas with no great feeling of optimism as to what the resumed East-West power talks will produce.

The Canadian government is known to feel strongly on a need for exhausting every possible basis of equitable East-West agreement before Western negotiations with Russia are broken off. Canadian officials may press this view in talks with Herter and his aides.

American diplomats said Herter will be prepared to give Canada's views earnest attention.

High Schools

Canadian Standard Lowest

TORONTO (UPI)—The man whose survey of Canadian and Russian scientific educational standards in high schools put Canada in a bad light, reported yesterday that the Canadian standard is the lowest in the Commonwealth.

Anthony Frisch, Italian-born author, teacher and civil servant who served in the RCAF in the last war, discovered by writing to educational authorities in Commonwealth countries that Canadian high schools, as a whole, put the least emphasis on the sciences.

He compared the high school curriculi in mathematics, physics, chemistry and biology—the same comparison which showed Russian high schools teaching 64 units in sciences and maths, higher than any province of any Commonwealth country.

He received no reply from the United Kingdom or Ceylon.

The initial report, comparing the Russian and Canadian standards, was tabled in the House of Commons Jan. 20. That survey was originally sponsored by the federal government which, he said, later dropped its support because of political pressure from Quebec.

He did the Commonwealth survey on his own.

The national average for Canada was 39 units, ranging from Ontario's top of 54, down to Quebec with 28 and Newfoundland with 27. Pakistan and South Africa each teach 40 units, India 48, New Zealand 56, and Australia has the best standard with an average of 57.

Loading of Ships Most Improbable

There were strong indications that the IWA intends to defy a B.C. supreme court injunction issued last night restraining the union from interfering with loading of three ships at Ogden Point dock.

The order was issued by Mr. Justice Thomas Brown at Vancouver. It remains in effect until Friday, under the four-day provision of the B.C. labor laws. Then the companies involved can apply for renewal and the union will have an opportunity to oppose it.

Local IWA officials declined to make any statement on the injunction, but they indicated that there had been no change in the union's plans.

Earlier in the day, Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane declined to hear an application from the B.C. Shipping Federation for an injunction to restrain IWA members from forming the picket line here.

And officials of the longshoremen's union indicated they would continue to honor IWA picket lines as long as they remain on duty at the docks.

The application was made after more than 130 longshoremen refused to load three ships berthed at Ogden Point with cargoes of lumber.

DOZEN OR MORE

A dozen or more men, wearing lapel buttons reading "I Am An IWA Member," appeared at the dock gates and the longshoremen indicated they regarded the IWA men as a picket line, which they refused to cross. But an IWA official said it was not a picket line.

"We're merely telling anybody who wants to know that these are IWA men," the official said.

However, a spokesman for the shipping federation, representing the owners of three ships whose berthing is costing $1,500 a day, said "we're not fooled—those IWA men are pickets all right, even though they're apparently carrying no placards."

REFLECTION OF NEED

John M. Billings, president of Forest Industrial Relations, which represents 127 operators, said last night that present labor troubles in B.C. are a reflection of the need to avoid "pricing ourselves out of business."

He said B.C. is priced out of the United Kingdom market for common lumber and there is now a dependence on U.S. demand. "It is necessary that we recognize what this means in insecurity and seasonal fluctuations in demand in an industry that once had the stability of a good range of overseas outlets."

BY 50 PER CENT

Economists report the strike will cut Canadian lumber exports to the U.S. by 50 per cent. Shipments from coast logging operations to the U.S. totalled 80,000,000 board feet a month in the first five months of this year.

Jack Moore, IWA first vice-president, said 14 small operators employing about 200 ment have signed agreements giving workers a 20 per cent increase and have resumed operations.

Joe Morris, IWA district president, and Mr. Billings indicated new negotiations aren't contemplated.

NO VIOLENCE

No violence was expected during the strike as companies have never attempted to bring in strike-breakers. However, the union has a 50-man flying squad in readiness in the event of trouble.

In some cases companies went out of their way to make picketers comfortable. One firm sent a construction crew out to build a shack for picketers. Others offered strikers use of restaurants or luncheon facilities.

Pacific Western Airlines nearly doubled its 18 regular flights to bring out loggers from Vancouver Island points. Canadian Pacific Airlines put extra planes on its flights to northern B.C. to look after the heavy influx of loggers flying from camps to Vancouver.

No Relief On Strike For Weeks

Relief payments for needy striking IWA men will only be paid in the third week of the strike, according to union officials.

Payments will be $14 a week for married men with an additional $3 a week for each child and $8 weekly for single men.

Meanwhile, it was announced, that all salaried officers of the union went off the payroll as of 11 a.m. July 6.

MAJ.-GEN. VANIER

Ex-Soldier Successor To Massey?

TORONTO (CP) — The Globe and Mail says it has learned reliably that the Queen "has agreed" to the appointment of Maj.-Gen. George P. Vanier, 71-year-old Montreal-born soldier and diplomat, to succeed Governor-General Massey.

Mr. Massey, 72, Canada's first native-born governor-general who has twice had his term extended, is due to retire this fall.

The paper says announcement of Gen. Vanier's appointment is expected soon, possibly before the Queen ends her Canadian tour Aug. 1.

Lantzville Cut-Off

Cyclist Killed In Crash, Plunge

NANAIMO—A motorcycle driver was fatally injured and his passenger seriously hurt when a motorcycle collided with a caf, crashed through a guard rail and then plunged into a ditch on the Island Highway yesterday afternoon.

Richard Stanley Kerr, 21, of Cowichan Station, named by RCMP as operator of the motorcycle, died in Nanaimo General Hospital about seven hours after he was rushed there by Island Ambulance from the accident scene.

In serious condition in the same hospital last night was Marvin Stacey, 21, of Vancouver. He was riding behind Kerr on the motorbike when it collided with a car driven by Sidney Haigh, Edmonton.

Police said the accident occurred as the southbound motorcycle tried to pass the car, also southbound, just as the latter was making a left-hand turn from the highway onto the Lantzville cut-off.

The driver of the car was unhurt.

In satisfactory condition in the same hospital was Robert Diplock, 36, of 1629 Townsite Road, Nanaimo, with head injuries suffered in another crash, late yesterday.

Polio Epidemic Hits U.S. Midwest City

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) —An outbreak of polio cases in Des Moines reached epidemic proportions yesterday, with 67 cases reported since the first of the year.

Dr. James F. Speers, the city-county health director, said of the year's total, all but three occurred within the last eight-and-a-half weeks.

Thirty of the 67 persons who have contracted polio had at least one polio shot. One of the victims had five shots of the Salk vaccine.

Three persons have died in the outbreak in the last two months.

Tomb of Midas May Yield Soon

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Dr. Rodney S. Young of the University of Pennsylvania Museum says he may soon break open the tomb of the fabulous King Midas, the foolish monarch with the golden touch.

Young and his staff are supervising excavations by a bulldozer and a crew of 150 peasants at Gordion, capital of ancient Phrygia, where Midas had his palace.

Legend says that Midas wished that everything he touched would turn to gold, but when his food turned to gold he begged off.

Young has been excavating at the site since 1950. He uncovered the largest tomb in 1957, but doubts it was that of Midas, who committed suicide after his city was looted about 685 BC.

Young does not believe so elaborate a burial would have been arranged in a time of catastrophe.

A bulldozer is now ripping off the top of the second-largest mound. Young hopes the tomb will yield some sign that it is that of Midas.

Bathtub Vodka Un-Soviet

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia yesterday decreed fines and stiff jail sentences for moonshiners and bootleggers in an apparent follow-up to Nikita Khrushchev's campaign against demon vodka.

Anyone caught making bathtub vodka or any other alcoholic beverage would be liable to a fine, social censure and a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment.

Slow Drive, Leisurely Lunch May Replace Royal Mill Tour

CHEMAINUS—Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip will not tour the mill here if the strike is still on July 16.

Instead they will spend the time on a "slow" drive through the district, ending at the golf course for a "leisurely" luncheon and a "rest."

The alternate plans were approved yesterday by deputy provincial secretary Laurie Wallace, Reeve C. A. P. Murison and Bryce Page, manager of the MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. mill.

"They will arrive at the time set, about 11.45 a.m., but will be driven through the Chemainus area," said Mr. Page.

He said unless the strike is settled soon, the alternate plan will be put into effect.

Route of the drive will be on Oak, Willow, Mill Road, Island Highway and then east on Henry Road to the fourth fairway of Mount Brenton golf course.

The royal couple will leave there shortly after 1.30 p.m. for Duncan.

She Saw Victoria —To See Elizabeth

PORT ALBERNI — Mrs. Rose Jennings, 709 Ninth Avenue North, saw Queen Victoria in England, and, on July 16, will see Queen Victoria's great-great-granddaughter in Nanaimo.

The 93-year-old Port Alberni resident is among 40 members of the Port Alberni Old Age Pensioners Organization who will have seats in Grandview Bowl at Nanaimo for the visit of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

Among highlights of the long life of Mrs. Jennings are the four previous times she has seen reigning monarchs on Canadian soil.

On Negotiations

1,200 Crowd Hall To Hear Reports

ALBERNI — Approximately 1,200 people, most of them strikers, crowded into Alberni Athletic Hall Monday night to hear a report on negotiations that failed.

The speaker was Walter Allen, president of local 1-85 IWA and a member of the central negotiating committee.

Referring to the strike which has idled over 3,000 workers in the Alberni Valley, Allen said, "none of us wanted to see this day."

He stressed that the IWA bargaining committee had scaled down wage demands during talks in Vancouver over the weekend but did not eliminate anything else which they had placed in the proposed contract.

Allen declared: "For the first time in the history of the union, press and radio are on our side.

Crime Lab to Examine Nanaimo Murder Items

NANAIMO—RCMP Const. Robert Sault has left for Regina with articles from the South Wellington double murder of 10 days ago.

The items will be examined in RCMP laboratories with the hope of uncovering some clue to the knife slayer's identity.

Police, headed by Sgt. Peter Gregory, of Victoria, started their hunt for the slayer of Andrew and Lizzie Kostynuk last Tuesday, three days after the slaying is believed to have taken place.

The couple were found stabbed in the bedroom of their suburban home.

School Vote Tomorrow

Bylaw Opponents Plan Bitter Battle

COBBLE HILL—A committee here formed to oppose a $1,155,292 school bylaw to be voted on in this school district tomorrow, will continue with their fight against junior schools "no matter what the voting decides."

At present they have a petition, signed by 400 persons, objecting to the bylaw on the grounds that it would mean senior high school students would have to go to Duncan, said Mrs. John Hilton, secretary.

Decision to continue their fight against junior schools was approved by more than 15 ratepayers at a meeting in the Hilton home. It was attended by four school trustees.

The meeting specifically was against changing the local school, George Bonner Junior-Senior High School into just a junior school.

Chairman of the meeting was George Bonner, a former school board trustee after whom the school was named.

The committee intends to hold meetings in other districts in their campaign for the old system of having elementary schools with classes up to Grade 8.

Talked with Gaglardi

Pender Islanders Win One Ferry Concession

Pender Island — A delegation from Pender Island chamber of commerce yesterday won a concession from the provincial government in the fight to obtain a larger ferry for the outer islands run.

Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi promised the government would make certain small additional subsidies available for the summer months only towards cost of operating a larger ferry.

The minister said Gavin Mouat, president of Gulf Islands Ferries, would be invited to attend a further meeting scheduled for tomorrow in Victoria between highways department officials and representatives of the Pender Island chamber.

The delegation suggested a reshuffle of ferries which would allow the Motor Princess, capable of carrying 42 cars, to replace the present ferry on the outer islands run, the 14-car Cy Peck.

This would entail, the delegation said, returning to service the Delta Princess, which can handle 38 cars, and putting her on the Swartz Bay-Fulford run now served by the Motor Princess. The Delta Princess is tied up in Fulford Harbor.

The delegation noted that with growing tourist trade in all the Gulf Islands, local residents often are unable to bring their cars aboard the Cy Peck because all available car space is taken.

New End-Loading Wharf Set for Grimmer Bay

PENDER ISLAND — Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi yesterday told a delegation from Pender Island Chamber of Commerce that the B.C. government will build a new end-loading ferry wharf at Grimmer Bay near Port Washington.

The minister told members of the delegation, who travelled to Victoria for the meeting, that a start will be made this year on the new wharf. The announcement follows a vote held last April in which residents favored the North Pender location.

Solid Evidence

Tourist Inquiries Higher in June

First concrete evidence that this year's tourist business is stronger than last year's came from the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau's Government Street office yesterday.

Commissioner George I. Warren said that the number of tourists who called in at the bureau in June was nearly 3,000 higher than during June of 1958.

Mr. Warren said June callers this year numbered 12,879 compared to about 10,000 one year ago.

He also reported that the bureau did a land office business when it opened its doors for the first Sunday this season at the weekend. More than 300 visitors called in.

The figure jumped to a season's record 700 on Monday and neared that figure yesterday.

Queen Will Be There

'Random' Choice Made For Garden Party

Nearly 4,000 people of all ranks and classes, half of them from B.C.'s vast interior, will have an opportunity to see Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip at the annual garden party at Government House on July 17.

This year, for the first time, the invitation list to the party, given personally by the lieutenant-governor and his wife, is province-wide. The decision to expand it to cover the province — from Alaska to the United States border — was made by Lieutenant-Governor Ross and Mrs. Ross because of the presence of the royal couple.

OBTAIN NAMES

The provincial list includes representatives of clubs, organizations, the services, racial groups, business and industry. In each case the lieutenant-governor wrote to the provincial headquarters of the various groups to obtain the names of the individuals they wished to have invited.

Because this year's party is province-wide the usual practice of inviting everybody who has signed the Government House guest book has had to be abandoned. Just one in 20 has been selected at random because the grounds at Government House cannot possibly contain more than 4,000 people. The old system will be resumed next year.

Among those invited are 144 RCN seamen and 28 officers, 67 non-commissioned soldiers and 18 officers, and 60 RCAF airmen and 18 officers.

ALL OVER B.C.

There are 10 members of 4-H Farming Clubs, 50 ranchers, 100 farmers and 38 miners from all over the province.

As well as 219 mayors and reeves the list includes 660 prominent citizens representing most of B.C.'s communities. In most cases they were chairmen of last years' centennial committees.

The names from the precedence list—judges, parliamentarians, heads of churches and the armed services—total only 215.

30 GIRL GUIDES

There are 174 chairmen of school boards, 149 representatives of the lumber industry —including loggers— and 30 Girl Guides.

Among other groups represented are veterans of both wars, the IODE, numerous charitable organizations, Boy Scouts, Army, Navy and Air Force cadets and the RCMP.

Cameras at Party Most Improper

Protocol decrees that guests at the July 17 garden party at Government House, to be attended by Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, leave their cameras at home. A spokesman said it would be most improper to have the royal couple hounded by amateur cameramen as they walked on the Government House lawns.

If it rains on July 17 the party will be held in the Bay Street Armoury.

Tattered But Treasured

Old and tattered after 46 years use, this tattered tartan travelling rug is still a treasured possession of George Clayton, 2855 Gorge View. Mr. Clayton served the Royal Family for nine years within the walls of Sandringham and at the Royal Family's country seat in Norfolk. The rug, and a marble paperweight, were given to him by Queen Alexandra when he left for Canada in 1913.—(Colonist photo.)

May Meet Queen

He's at Home With Royalty

Few people meet members of the royal family without a feeling akin to awe, but if Queen Elizabeth or Prince Philip speak to George Clayton, 2855 Gorge View, next week he'll feel quite at home.

Still tall and erect despite his 67 years, Mr. Clayton has . . .

"Spotted" billiard balls for King Edward VII, Kaiser Wilhelm II, the Earl de Gray and the King of Norway;

Carried shot for King Edward VII and King George V while they hunted at Sandringham, and Played football with King George VI and the Duke of Windsor.

So royalty holds no terrors for George Clayton. He will be sitting in a special seat at the civic ceremony to be held in Beacon Hill Park July 17.

A native of Dirsingham, Norfolk, a small village near Sandringham, Mr. Clayton entered service at the royal family's country seat in 1904, when he was 12 years old. Four years later he entered the royal family's private post office.

After five years in the post office he left England for Canada. Queen Alexandra, consort of King Edward VII, presented him with a travelling rug and a pearl marble paperweight as going-away gifts.

"I think Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip are a fine young couple and I think they are the making of something to try and bring peace to the world," he says.

U.K. Educator Speaks Here

A noted British educator, Dame Olive Wheeler, will address the Victoria branch of the English Speaking Union at Victoria College at 8.15 p.m. July 18.

Dame Wheeler, one-time dean of the faculty of education at the University of Manchester and later professor of education and dean of the faculty of education at University College, Cardiff, Wales, will speak on recent developments in British education.

Compromise

Work Out Settlement Mayor Asks

Both sides in the B.C. coast lumber strike "know perfectly well there's going to be a compromise some place along the line" and should get together to reach it, Mayor Parcy Scurrah said yesterday.

"I could never understand why it's not possible to sit down at a table and stay there until that compromise is reached without the loss, bitterness and hardship a strike brings," the mayor said.

He described the strike as a tragedy—"It's so far reaching. It goes into every part of the economy of the city and the province."

Will Royal Couple Leave Car?

★ ★ ★

Whether or not Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip will get out of their car to see Greater Victoria children at Clover Point July 17 will be a matter of royal choice, according to members of the civic royal visit committee.

But, they have indicated, they hope there will be at least a brief stop at the point, and perhaps a walk around the road loop.

Stationed around the loop will be young members of the St. John Ambulance, Protestant Orphanage, Federation of Canadian Artists, YMCA, YWCA, Sea Cadets, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, Canadian Girls in Training, United Church, and United Cadet Service.

In the Colonist map above, the route of the Queen and Prince Philip is in solid white. The royal cavalcade enters from the west along Dallas, proceeds around the loop on Clover Point, and exits to the north along Moss.

Parking areas for all vehicles carrying children to the Clover Point review may be located by referring to the key symbols in the lower right-hand corner.

All viewing areas allotted to various groups of youngsters are designated on the map.

Unloading and loading areas for the 4-H Clubs, Anglican Church, Esquimalt parks, Saanich parks and city parks organizations will be on Dallas Road at the foot of Marlborough and Cambridge Streets. Approach of buses and cars to this area must be by Cook Street or Beacon Hill Park.

The remaining groups, Oak Bay Parks, St. John Ambulance, the Protestant Orphanage, F.C.A., YMCA, Boy Scouts, YWCA, Sea Cadets, CGIT, United Church, United Cadet Service and Girl Guides will unload and reload at the locations east of Clover Point, approaching from Memorial Crescent or from the Ross Bay area of Dallas Road.

All cars and buses are to go to the designated parking areas after unloading.

After debarking from vehicles, groups of youngsters will assemble and dispatch markers to positions indicating the extremities of their alloted areas.

On orders of the marshal the groups will fall in between their markers. This must be completed by 2.15 p.m.

After departure of the royal couple, groups are to remain in their places until the marshal sends them back to their original unloading areas.

Beaver, Elk Lakes

Boat Ban Bylaw Readied

Saanich council is having a special bylaw prepared to ban power boats from Beaver Lake and restrict them to a northwest section of Elk Lake.

If the draft bylaw is found to be impossible to enforce power boats will be banned completely from the lakes, Reeve George Chatterton said last night.

A five-point basis for the proposed bylaw was hammered out last night at a special meeting of the council's lands and planning committee, attended by representatives of power boat owner organizations and the Elk Lake Ratepayers' Association.

The five points are:

Limiting the use of boats to the northwest part of Elk Lake, with no restrictions as to speed or power;

Definition of a line from two points on the lake shore, beyond which the boats may not go;

Restriction of launching of the boats to the shoreline of the northwest part of Elk Lake;

Regulations covering the safe driving of power boats within the restricted area, and

Swimming to be allowed within the area to which the use of power boats is restricted.

The question of licensing power boats for operation on the lake—providing numbers to identify boats in the event of a complaint—was referred to police chief W. A. Pearson for comment.

Reeve George Chatterton said last night the council is still trying to ban float planes from the lake.

Little Blue-Eyed Blonde To Give Flowers to Queen

DUNCAN — Pert little Loraine Holman, 13, will present a bouquet of flowers to Queen Elizabeth.

Decision to let the blue-eyed blonde make the presentation came at a meeting here Monday. Previously there had been some doubt if there would be time.

Loraine has been chosen to be Queen of the Sweet Pea Festival and Flower Show here July 11 when she will be crowned.

Officials said Loraine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Holman, 375 Jubilee, will make the presentation, July 16, after the Queen and Prince Philip have been presented to local dignitaries. Presentation will be made when the Queen leaves the viewing stand in Pioneer Park.

It will be made in front of an expected crowd of 12,000.

FULFORD HARBOR — The Hobby and Crafts Exhibition will be held at the Beaver Point Hall today.

It has gained interest each year and is sponsored by the community of that district with Gwen Ruckle in charge.

There will be stamps, rug making, pottery, handicrafts in woodwork, paintings, and many other arts that only people in these islands can produce. Teas will be served in the afternoon, from 2.30 to 5. But the exhibition will remain open until 8 p.m.

This would make a delightful trip for visitors from Victoria, who can travel via the MV Motor Princess to Fulford, and drive through to Beaver Point. They will be warmly welcomed by the residents of Salt Spring Island.

Family Finds Refuge After Home Burned

LADYSMITH — Stanley Eugene, whose home was destroyed by fire July 1, has taken up residence in a summer cottage near the site of his burned house. He and his family will remain there until the house has been rebuilt.

The blaze, cause of which is unknown, was well on its way before it was discovered by a neighbor and the alarm turned in. Fast action by the Diamond Volunteer Fire Department, however, prevented the flames from spreading to a house only seven feet away.

CITY IWA LIKELY TO DEFY OGDEN POINT 'PICKET' BAN

Wenner-Gren Plan:

Rails to Yukon Start in 1960

VANCOUVER (CP) — Officials of the Wenner-Gren B.C. Development Co. said last night the company's proposed northern railway will probably run northwestward from Prince George to the Yukon border.

AVERELL HARRIMAN

Decision on a final route won't be made for several months yet, but aerial surveys are being made along this general northwesterly route, which would add 500 miles of steel to B.C.'s railway system.

Company executives Bernard Gore, Einar Gunderson and Birger Strid told reporters that a final decision will probably be made Oct. 30 and construction will start in early summer of 1960.

Aerial surveys of the general route will be completed in several weeks and this will enable engineers to recommend a precise route and to decide whether it will be a monorail or conventional railroad.

PART OF U.S. PLAN

It is considered likely that such a northwesterly route will be part of a general plan for a United States railroad to Alaska.

A northerly route from Fort St. John had been one of the plans under study by the engineers, but this has been ruled out.

It's also considered possible the railway may run beyond the Yukon boundary.

Consulting engineer Col. Sidney Binham is overseeing the choice of a route. He is a specialist on military transport and was an advisor to the U.S. government and armed forces.

MILLS, PLANTS

A monorail was considered by the company in an overall development plan of the north which would include mills and plants. But it was reported here that because of U.S. interest in the line as a route to Alaska, the probability of a monorail has almost been ruled out.

Cyclist Killed In Crash, Plunge

NANAIMO—A motorcycle driver was fatally injured and his passenger seriously hurt when a motorcycle collided with a car, crashed through a guard rail and then plunged into a ditch on the Island Highway yesterday afternoon.

Richard Stanley Kerr, 21, of Cowichan Station, named by RCMP as operator of the motorcycle, died in Nanaimo General Hospital about seven hours after he was rushed there by Island Ambulance from the accident scene.

In serious condition in the same hospital last night was Marvin Stacey, 21, of Vancouver. He was riding behind Kerr on the motorbike when it collided with a car driven by Sidney Haigh, Edmonton.

Police said the accident occurred as the southbound motorcycle tried to pass the car, also southbound, just as the latter was making a left-hand turn from the highway onto the Lantzville cut-off.

The driver of the car was unhurt.

Polio Epidemic Hits U.S. Midwest City

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) —An outbreak of polio cases in Des Moines reached epidemic proportions yesterday, with 67 cases reported since the first of the year.

Herter to Consult Canada on Geneva

WASHINGTON (CP)—Canada may play a part in the formation of the Western position in the new session of Geneva talks opening Monday, state department officials said Tuesday.

State Secretary Christian Herter will fly to Ottawa Saturday for a round of discussions with Prime Minister Diefenbaker and External Affairs Minister Green before going on to Geneva Saturday night.

This will be Herter's first official visit to Ottawa since he succeeded the late John Foster Dulles last April. While there has been no formal declaration by the American government as to what he will discuss, American diplomats made clear that an exchange of views on the Geneva situation undoubtedly will be the first item of business.

Herter's aides said he is proceeding overseas with no great feeling of optimism as to what the resumed East-West power talks will produce.

The Canadian government is known to feel strongly on a need for exhausting every possible basis of equitable East-West agreement before Western negotiations with Russia are broken off. Canadian officials may press this view in talks with Herter and his aides.

American diplomats said Herter will be prepared to give Canada's views earnest attention.

Tomb of Midas May Yield Soon

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Dr. Rodney S. Young of the University of Pennsylvania Museum says he may soon break open the tomb of the fabulous King Midas, the foolish monarch with the golden touch.

Young and his staff are supervising excavations by a bulldozer and a crew of 150 peasants at Gordion, capital of ancient Phrygia, where Midas had his palace.

Legend says that Midas wished that everything he touched would turn to gold, but when his food turned to gold he begged off.

Young has been excavating at the site since 1950. He uncovered the largest tomb in 1957, but doubts it was that of Midas, who committed suicide after his city was looted about 685 BC.

Young does not believe so elaborate a burial would have been arranged in a time of catastrophe.

A bulldozer is now ripping off the top of the second-largest mound. Young hopes the tomb will yield some sign that it is that of Midas.

High Schools

Canadian Standard Lowest

TORONTO (UPI)—The man whose survey of Canadian and Russian scientific educational standards in high schools put Canada in a bad light, reported yesterday that the Canadian standard is the lowest in the Commonwealth.

Anthony Frisch, Italian-born author, teacher and civil servant who served in the RCAF in the last war, discovered by writing to educational authorities in Commonwealth countries that Canadian high schools, as a whole, put the least emphasis on the sciences.

He compared the high school curricula in mathematics, physics, chemistry and biology—the same comparison which showed Russian high schools teaching 64 units in sciences and maths, higher than any province of any Commonwealth country.

He received no reply from the United Kingdom or Ceylon.

The initial report, comparing the Russian and Canadian standards, was tabled in the House of Commons Jan. 20. That survey was originally sponsored by the federal government which, he said, later dropped its support because of political pressure from Quebec.

He did the Commonwealth survey on his own.

The national average for Canada was 39 units, ranging from Ontario's top of 54, down to Quebec with 28 and Newfoundland with 27. Pakistan and South Africa each teach 40 units, India 48, New Zealand 56, and Australia has the best standard with an average of 57.

Longshoremen Respect 'Line'

There were strong indications that the IWA intends to defy a B.C. supreme court injunction issued last night restraining the union from interfering with loading of three ships at Ogden Point dock.

The order was issued by Mr. Justice Thomas Brown at Vancouver. It remains in effect until Friday, under the four-day provision of the B.C. labor laws. Then the companies involved can apply for renewal and the union will have an opportunity to oppose it.

Local IWA officials declined to make any statement on the injunction, but they indicated that there had been no change in the union's plans.

Earlier in the day, Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane declined to hear an application from the B.C. Shipping Federation for an injunction to restrain IWA members from forming the picket line here.

And officials of the longshoremen's union indicated they would continue to honor IWA picket lines as long as they remain on duty at the docks.

The application was made after more than 130 longshoremen refused to load three ships berthed at Ogden Point with cargoes of lumber.

DOZEN OR MORE

A dozen or more men, wearing lapel buttons reading "I Am An IWA Member," appeared at the dock gates and the longshoremen indicated they regarded the IWA men as a picket line, which they refused to cross. But an IWA official said it was not a picket line.

"We're merely telling anybody who wants to know that these are IWA men," the official said.

However, a spokesman for the shipping federation, representing the owners of three ships whose berthing is costing $1,500 a day, said "we're not fooled—those IWA men are pickets all right, even though they're apparently carrying no placards."

REFLECTION OF NEED

John M. Billings, president of Forest Industrial Relations, which represents 127 operators, said last night that present labor troubles in B.C. are a reflection of the need to avoid "pricing ourselves out of business."

He said B.C. is priced out of the United Kingdom market for common lumber and there is now a dependence on U.S. demand. "It is necessary that we recognize what this means in insecurity and seasonal fluctuations in demand in an industry that once had the stability of a good range of overseas outlets."

BY 50 PER CENT

Economists report the strike will cut Canadian lumber exports to the U.S. by 50 per cent. Shipments from coast logging operations to the U.S. totalled 80,000,000 board feet a month in the first five months of this year.

Jack Moore, IWA first vice-president, said 14 small operators employing about 200 men have signed agreements giving workers a 20 per cent increase and have resumed operations.

Joe Morris, IWA district president, and Mr. Billings indicated new negotiations aren't contemplated.

NO VIOLENCE

No violence was expected during the strike as companies have never attempted to bring in strike-breakers. However, the union has a 50-man flying squad in readiness in the event of trouble.

In some cases companies went out of their way to make picketers comfortable. One firm sent a construction crew out to build a shack for picketers. Others offered strikers use of restaurants or luncheon facilities.

No Relief On Strike For Weeks

Relief payments for needy striking IWA men will only be paid in the third week of the strike, according to union officials.

Payments will be $14 a week for married men with an additional $3 a week for each child and $8 weekly for single men.

Meanwhile, it was announced, that all salaried officers of the union went off the payroll as of 11 a.m. July 6.

Ex-Soldier Successor To Massey?

TORONTO (CP) — The Globe and Mail says it has learned reliably that the Queen "has agreed" to the appointment of Maj.-Gen. George P. Vanier, 71-year-old Montreal-born soldier and diplomat, to succeed Governor-General Massey.

Mr. Massey, 72, Canada's first native-born governor-general who has twice had his term extended, is due to retire this fall.

The paper says announcement of Gen. Vanier's appointment is expected soon, possibly before the Queen ends her Canadian tour Aug. 1.

Bathtub Vodka Un-Soviet

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia yesterday decreed fines and stiff jail sentences for moonshiners and bootleggers in an apparent follow-up to Nikita Khrushchev's campaign against demon vodka.

Anyone caught making bathtub vodka or any other alcoholic beverage would be liable to a fine, social censure and a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment.
